"With Colors that Never Fade"

When one is a few weeks old, he becomes aware of color. Throughout his life, he is surrounded by color — in his society as well as in nature. After this child has reached college age and has entered the college of his choice, this awareness of color is broadened by experiences and people that he encounters throughout his college career.

He may meet students from foreign countries who are of a different color than he, but finds that they have many things in common with him and much to share.

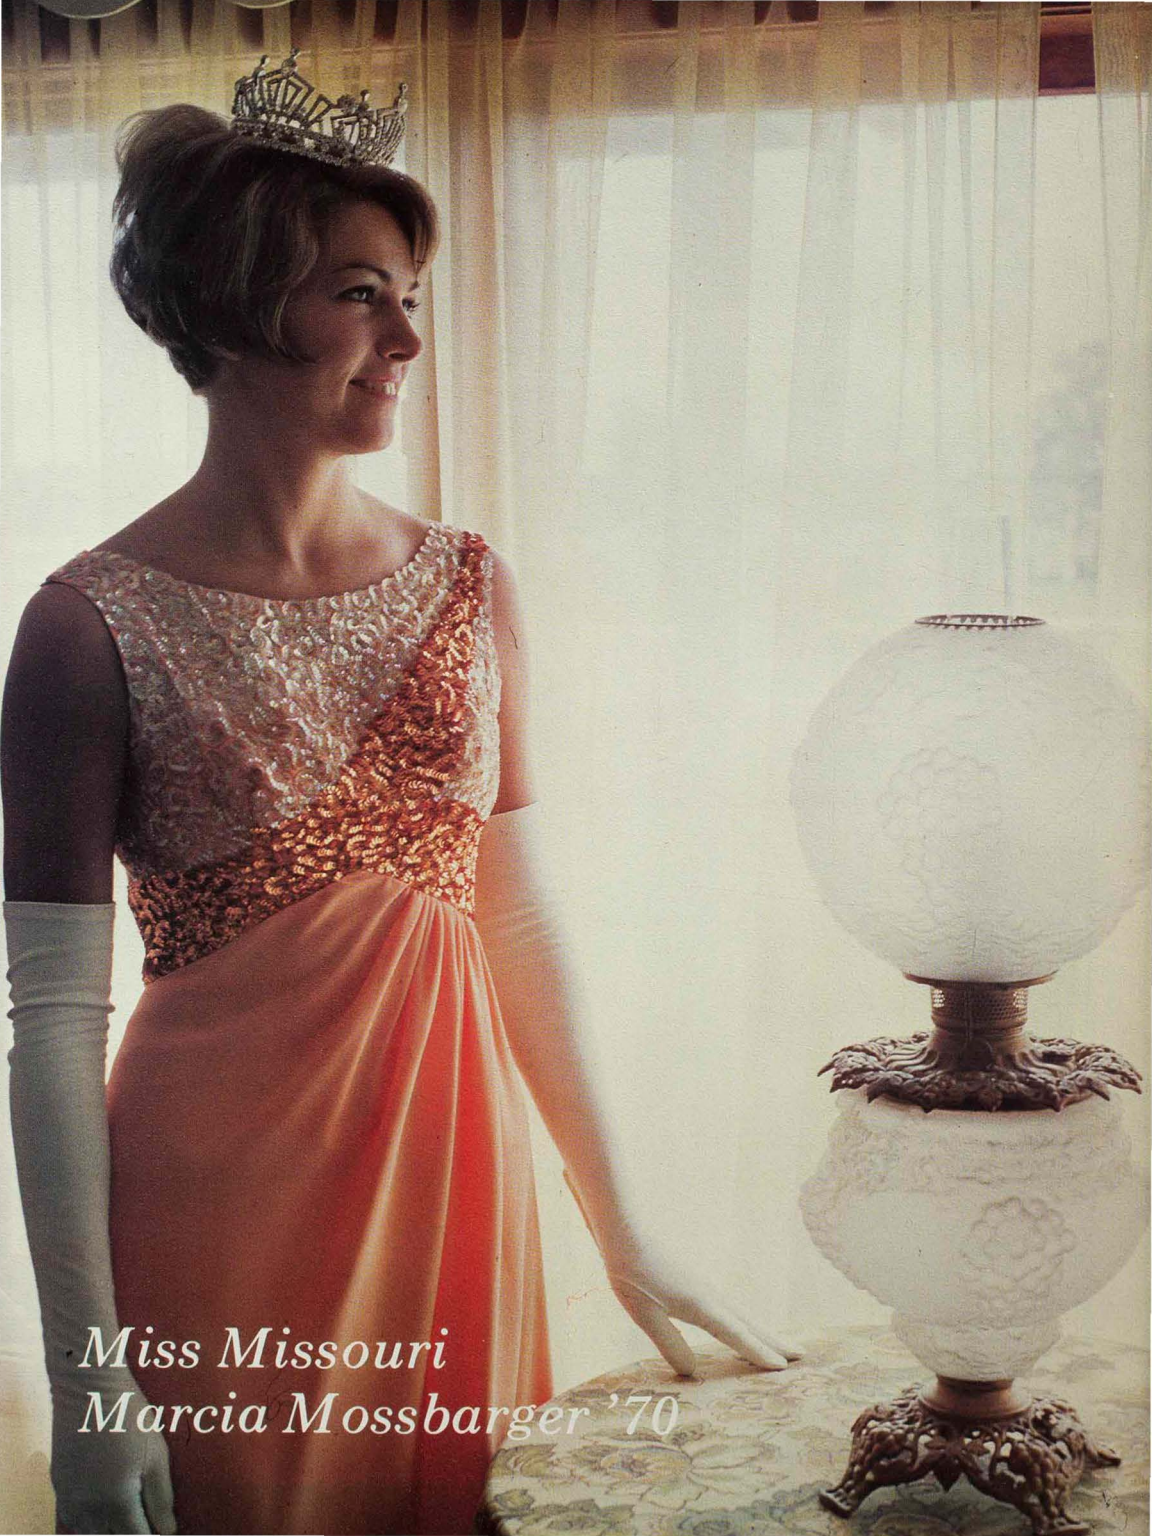

If he was not aware of the racial situation in our country before arriving at college he will soon learn about it—in the classroom and in campus social life.

During his college years one become more aware of color and many of the concepts, ideas and changes that occur because of encounters with it, color will not fade from one's memory. It is with this idea that we hope this colorful yearbook will not allow your memories of your college life to fade and to reflect upon the idea that all men see all colors as beautiful.

Miss Missouri
Marcia Mossbarger '70

A dog's life? Marcia Mossbarger's dalmation doesn't seem to think so as he congratulates his happy owner on her coronation as Miss Missouri, 1970.

At home on the farm, Marcia helps by pitching hay and working on other country chores.

After a busy, active year in college, Marcia enjoys the long, lazy summer days on her parent's farm in Brookfield.

STUDENT LIFE

Jim Gantt and Larry Weede assist students voting for Homecoming Queen.

A vivacious Bulldog fan, popcorn in hand, is on his feet helping the cheerleaders yell for support of the football team. Other fans watch and wonder a little!

ACADEMICS

Lee Replaces Bartow As New Regent

James R. Reinhard served as President of the College Board of Regents during 1971 as well as 1970. Other officers included Raymond Baker, vice-president; and Bruce H. Hunt, secretary. Committee chairmen were: Academic Affairs Committee, Mary Alice Bunney; Administration Committee, William O. Lee, who replaced Bartow on the Board; and Student Affairs Committee, James F. Jae, Jr., who replaced Howard Hoffmaster on the Board of Regents as of last December.

Appointed by Governor Warren E. Hearnes the Regents hold their offices for six year terms.

President Lists Goals; Reorganizes Divisions

A college campus is a place devoted to the life of the mind. President Charles J. McClain believes that the minds of the College's teachers, students, and scholars can function best when all support services which pave the way to bringing administrative decisions sharply into focus with the needs of the individual.

For this reason, the President's first goal for the year has been administrative reorganization. The divisions of data processing, business, and maintenance—along with other administrative services divisions—now report directly to the Dean of Administration. Dynamic and bold ideas in the area of administrative decision-making have been undertaken. The new Administrative Resource Center, designed to speed the collection and retrieval of answers to questions, is one of several innovations in the President's office.

Dr. McClain talks with two members of the Student Nurses Association about the cancellation of the campus nursing program.

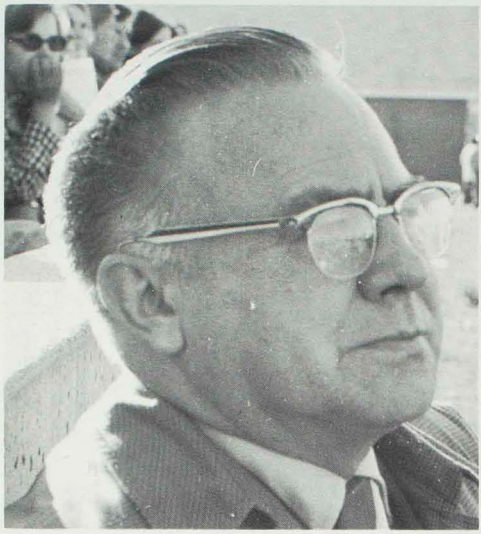

In his first complete year as President of the College, Dr. McClain finds there are not enough hours in the day for the many meetings, panels, and conferences he must attend.

Another job of a college president is the responsibility of speaking at many banquets and dinners throughout the year.

V-President Mittler Works With Committees

Dr. Mittler relaxes at NMSC football win.

The activities of the office of Vice-President Eli Mittler are centered essentially in two areas - to take the place of the President and act at his direction in case of absence and to be in charge of extra-divisional affairs. These affiars include the Extension Service, Placement Service, Correspondence Bureau, Audio-Visual education, and the Funds and Grants Committee. This last committee is composed of representatives of every academic division. They meet monthly to study all possibilities of procuring federal grants, with the vice-president acting as chairman. Other committees headed by Dr. Mittler are the Organization Planning Committee and the Space Committee, which deals with space utilization for the whole campus.

Presently, Dr. Mittler and the Correspondence Bureau are working to extend college correspondence courses. They hope to make them more adoptable to the individual needs of the student through the use of tapes, movies, even personal visits. In conjunction with this goal Dr. Mittler reiterated the philosophy of President McClain - that the College must serve the entire community in the college area.

Dean Charles Campbell Takes Over New Office

Longer Student Union hours, better dormitory food, changes in registration, and campus beautification are a few of the changes that Dean Campbell, the newly appointed Dean of Administration is striving to obtain. Dean Campbell took over these duties September of this year. The position has the responsibility of all administrative matters. Dean Campbell is promoting an open door policy for all students with problems. To better the food services, Campbell has faculty members eating in the halls to report the suitability of the food. The Dean and his associates hold seminars to discuss and present solutions to these problems.

Divisions which report to the Dean of Administration include the Business Office, Maintenance, Food Service, Data Processing, Registrar's Office, Student Union and the Campus Book Store. Safety and Security, another division under the direction of Dean Campbell, is currently being revised with the development of the Honor Guard and formation of S.O.S. Safety is relevant to student needs and these changes, the Dean feels, will involve the student.

Information Updating Is Chief Goal

Robert McKinney serves as division head.

Robert L. McKinney is head of the Public Relations division at Northeast Missouri State College. Informing the public of purposes, goals, and achievements of the College are the main responsibilities of the division.

Susan Hahn is the division newswriter. Mrs. Hahn released news from the College to various news media in areas of the United States where students originate from as well as locally in Iowa, Illinois, and Missouri.

John Kenney serves as the College publicity photographer and instructor in photography. Alumni activities are under the direction of Russell Harrison, who edits the NEMOSCOPE, publication of the NMSC Alumni Association. William Cable, director of publications, also acts as sports information director.

The ECHO yearbook and the INDEX newspaper, student publications of NMSC were under the supervision of Joe Galkowski during the fall semester and the advisory duties of directing the student publications were taken over by Mr. Richard Massa, beginning in the spring semester.

Ludlow Installed As Dean Of Instruction

Assuming new duties this year as Dean of Instruction was Dr. Earl Ludlow. Dr. Ludlow had been at the College since 1964 as a professor of education. Previous to joining the faculty here he acquired some 35 years of experience in the schools of Kansas and Oklahoma.

As chief academic officer of the College, Dean Ludlow concerned himself with both students and faculty. His duties include overseeing any changes, additions, or improvements in the existing academic program.

Business Services Division Gives Student Assistance

The business and financial responsibilities of the College were carried out by the division of Business Service. Under division head Pete Nicoletti, was the purchasing agent, who made the requisitioned purchases for the college; the comptroller, who administered the internal budget and certified purchases requested; the stenographic office, which was responsible for all stenographic and duplicating service used; and the telephone exchange, which provided communication service for the students and faculty.

Much of the operations were speeded up by the use of the Data Processing Computers. These computers were an aid in the processing of checks and forms, and in other jobs which would require much time without a machine.

Pete Nicoletti, division head, handles purchased requisitions for the college.

Data Processing Head Information Center

Dr. Robert Bradley demonstrates use of the computer terminal to Dr. Wright and Dr. Ludlow.

Responsible for supervising the development of information systems for the college is the Data Processing Center. Some of these responsibilities are fulfilled by offering advice in the areas of information storage, information transmission, or information usage.

Recent applications include revising the periodical system for the library and the inventory system. The academic use of the center has also been greatly increased this year. These activities and the operation of our student and alumni information systems has caused a great increase in the regular activities of the center.

Future plans call for an intensive analysis and updating of current systems, and the development of systems in several new areas.

Upward Bound Motivates High School Students

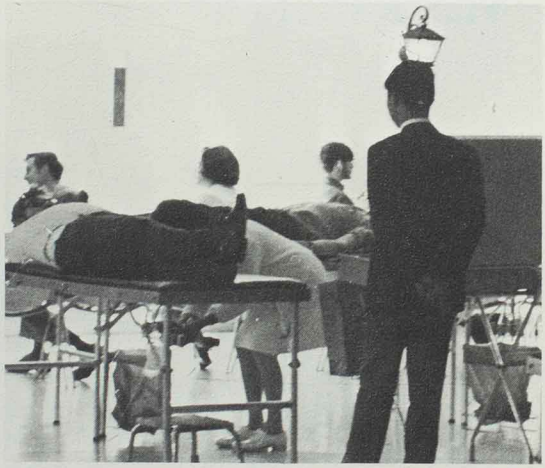

Upward Bound is a college preparatory program aimed at motivating Northeast Missouri area high school students from low income backgrounds to continue their education through college. Students sought out have ability, potential, and personal worth that may not have been recognized or expressed in the typical classroom. The program contributes financial aid, guidance, and any necessary remedial study skills.

Instructors and tutor counselors are carefully selected from the NMSC student body and faculty for their capability and willingness to try new innovations in teaching and their ability to understand the Upward Bound student. A special curriculum is designed to help the student develope creative thinking, individual confidence, and effective self-expression needed for a successful college experience.

Health Clinic Gives Free Immunizations

"Better clinical facilities and a larger personnel cannot be attained until provisions have been acknowledged by the administration for a larger clinic," commented Dr. John Biggerstaff, supervisor of the College Health Office. The student health clinic, located in Kirk building, services approximately 700 students per week.

Among these services are tests and immunizations and flu shots. "Do Not Be A Product of Student Unrest—Get Your Flu Shot Now and Enjoy Bodily Peace" was a year-round sign on the door of the clinic. Many students took advantage of these free immunizations during the cold, winter months.

Minor surgery is also provided by the campus Student Health Services. This surgery is given free of charge when requested by the student and recommended by Dr. Biggerstaff.

Administrators Promote Student Welfare

The Division of Student Affairs, under the leadership of Henry Boucher, was this year in charge of student organizations, social activities, both on and off-campus housing, student aid, awards and scholarships, and many other activities concerning the general welfare of the students.

Director of Freshman Enrollment, Jerry Gregory, was placed in charge of orientation, advising and enrolling new freshmen.

Rita Gramann, Dean of Women and faculty sponsor for the Panhellenic Council was responsible for setting up of the social calendar and working on Greek activities.

Under the leadership of Wayne Newman, Director of Financial Aid, the Work-study program was efficiently ran for those qualified students seeking financial aid.

Jerry Gregory, director of Freshman Enrollment, plans new ways to speed up the pre-registration procedures for freshmen.

Graduate Studies Office Formulates New Policies

Promotion of the Graduate programs at the college is the major function of the Office of Graduate Studies. Duties include receiving applications for admission to graduate work, receiving transcripts after a bachelor's degree or master's degree has been earned, and evaluating the applications and transcripts.

The director of Graduate Studies works with the Graduate Council in formulating and revising policies. Various procedures were modified this year in adjustment to the change to a semester system.

J. P. Martin, head of Graduate programs, coordinates and plans curriculum for students pursuing higher degrees.

Admissions Office Gives "Senior Day"

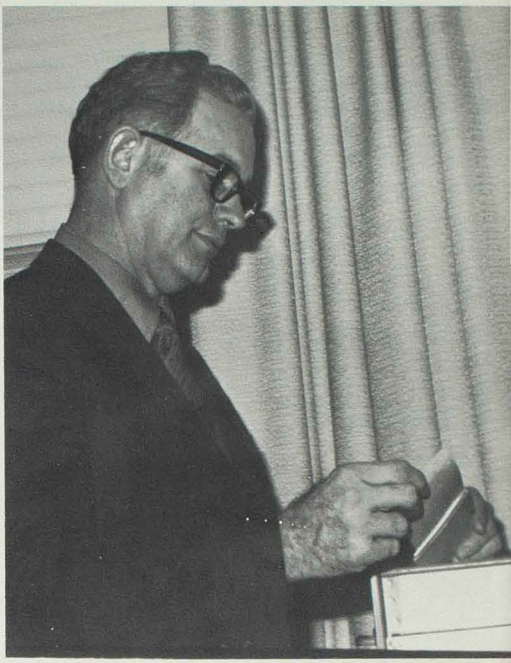

Determining the academic, physical, and social standing of students applying for admission to the College is a major job of the Admissions Office. Added responsibilities are the sending of information to high school seniors, evaluating of transcripts and test scores, and the advising of students about career and course opportunities.

Each year the Admissions Office, under the direction of Charles Elam, sponsors a Senior Day. The purpose of this is to aquaint prospective college students from high schools in the Northeast Missouri area with the facilities and curriculums available at NMSC. Students are free to attend lectures from the department in which they are most interested; then the day is culminated in a "get-acquainted" dance.

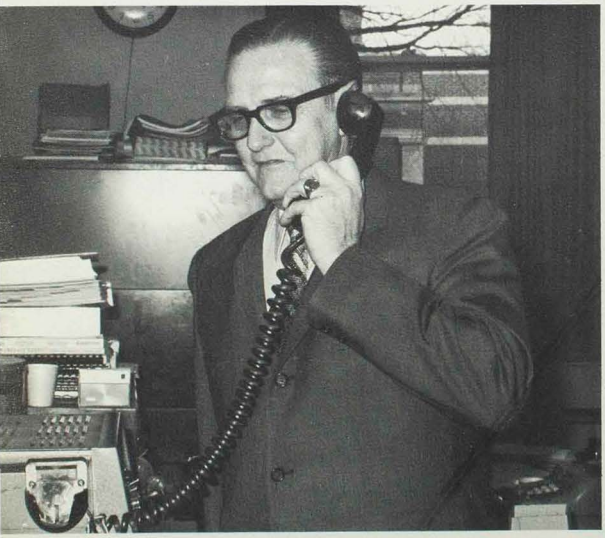

Registrar Personnel Handle College Paperwork

Microfilming of student records was one of the improvements made at the Registrar's Office. Other important changes this year included reducing the number of registration forms to be completed by the student and an evaluation of the pre-registration process in an attempt to make it easier in the future.

Responsibilities of the Registrar's Office include maintaining accurate student records of credit and grades, providing transcripts, evaluating transfer credits, certifying credit to other schools and the State Department of Education, and sending out student grade reports. Requirements for student aids include a specified academic average, clerical ability, and the desire to help students.

Orville Bowers, chief registrar for the College, checks his files to make sure a student's transcript is both available and correct.

The new radio systems are convenient for Howard Morris, head of the Maintenance Division. Here, he checks to see that the newly purchased Air Force base buildings are safe and patrolled.

Maintenance Division Acquires More Duties

Relocated this year in spacious new quarters at the renovated BSU building, the College Maintenance Department employs some 85 full-time and 45 part-time workers to keep NMSC ticking. Parking stickers, building and grounds maintenance, repair work, and security facilities are only a few of the services of the Maintenance Department under the direction of Howard Morris.

Recently the Maintenance staff acquired a little more to watch—the new Industrial Education Building and the abandoned Air Force radar base. Security staff members were given additional duties and responsibilities because of these additions. New maintenance equipment this year included an FM radio system for all security cars.

Dr. Robert Wright, director of Counseling and Testing services, discusses test results and the new study skills center with Dean Ludlow.

Counseling and Testing Aid Freshman Tutoring

Service to the individual student as well as to the group of students has been the express goal of the Counseling and Testing Division at NMSC. A special area in which the division was active in was the coordination of the freshman tutoring program, aiding the freshman who had not yet adjusted to his college classes and the college way of life.

Increased counseling services are available to students through the efforts of advanced graduate students working in the division. The division also boasted four professional counseling psychologists with doctorates in that area and a professional psychometrist who administered standardized tests. Within the study skills lab, student characteristics were researched to provide information for eventual student aids.

Division of Extension Aids Education Majors

Furthering college services to as many areas as possible is the objective of the Extension Division. The division serves college students, high schools, teachers and communities.

Included in the Division of Extension Service are the Bureau of Placements, Bureau of High School Educational Activities, Bureau of Audio-Visual Education, and the Bureau of Correspondence and Extension Service. Students who are unable to attend an educational institution may take courses through this service, and public school teachers may take courses toward a degree under supervision of the division.

Dr. J. C. Wright serves as acting head of the Extension Division. Under his direction are Kathleen Bohon, Bureau of Placements, Forest Crooks, Bureau of Audio-Visual Education, and Noah Richardson, Bureau of Correspondence and Extension Service.

Dr. Ryle Completing Centennial History

This year President Emeritus Dr. Walter Ryle has been kept busy with three major areas of concern. From his office in Kirk Building, Dr. Ryle is now nearing completion of his sixth book, the official history of Northeast Missouri State from 1867 to 1967. At the time of his retirement Dr. Ryle was requested by the Board of Regents to write this centennial history of the College. Utilizing the College Missouriana Collection, information from various alumni, college archives, and old college publications, he is now working on the 25th and final chapter of the book.

In addition to the history, Dr. Ryle is in charge of all landscaping of the campus and overseeing operation of the greenhouse. He is presently drawing plans for additional trees, shrubs, and evergreens this spring.

Finally, Dr. Ryle is also involved in several civic responsibilities. He serves on the Zoning and Planning Commission of Kirksville, as chairman of the Health and Welfare Council of Northeast Missouri, and on the board of the United Fund.

President Emeritus of the College, Dr. Walter H. Ryle, leaves Kirk Memorial where he maintains his office.

Dr. Ryle is shown taking notes for the final chapter of his Centennial History, which he is now completing.

Dr. Ryle admires a lily in the greenhouse, which he supervises, as well as all landscaping of the College campus.

Dr. Charles Kauzlarich ably serves as head of the Business Division.

New Courses Added in Business Education

Housed in Violette Hall, the Business Education Division of NMSC has offered students a wide variety of fields of endeavor. The flexibility of the programs have not only helped prepare teachers of business subjects within the high school and junior college, but has also provided students with intensive short courses toward their vocational training. Completion of one of the programs enabled students to obtain the Bachelor of Science degree, the Bachelor of Science in Education, or the Master of Arts degree.

For those students who did not desire a major in business, another highly developed course of study was developed to serve the student. One and two-year certificate programs are now offered, as well as special programs in accounting and data processing.

Teaching Skills Center Prepares Future Teachers

Preparation for future teachers, social administrators, and counselors constitute the major purpose for the Education Division faculty members. A new Teaching Skills Center was begun by the division this year. The center is composed of three laboratories: 1) audio-visual utilization, 2) instructional materials preparation, and 3) micro-teaching. These laboratories provide intensive skills training for juniors and seniors enrolled in teacher education.

The Education Division under the direction of Dr. Taylor Lindsey prepares students in the art of teaching, including the skillful use of materials and techniques. The division cooperates with the public schools in this area providing student teaching. The division offers degrees in elementary education, secondary education, administration and guidance. Throughout the year, plans for improving student teaching was made.

Fine Arts Department Acquires Adair House

Weaving, design and painting studios are among the new provisions in the Fine Arts Division this year. Not only is the entire third floor of Baldwin Hall devoted to Art students, but the Division newly acquired the old Adair House for use as ceramics and three-dimensional design laboratories. In addition eight new practice rooms for Music majors are available in Kirk Building. The enlarging Art department also received a new graphics press for the development of print making.

A variety of activities sponsored by the Division included a concert by Vaclav Nehlybel, internationally known composer and conductor, and the presentation of Puccini's Madame Butterfly Opera, which was performed at both the College and the American Theatre in St. Louis. Dr. O. A. Fuller, Administrator of Fine Arts at Lincoln University, consulted with the faculty concerning Black studies in Fine Arts. A series of consultants from area schools for the Teaching of Music classes were also included in the year's activities. The Fine Arts Division also hopes to sponsor a two-week Music and Art tour in Europe for interested students in August, '71.

PE Division Phases Nursing Program Out Of Curriculum

Fields of study in men's and women's physical education, health, and recreation are offered within the division of Health and Physical Education at the College. Nursing has also been offered as a department of the division until this year when the program was phased out due to a shortage of nursing instructors.

The division of Health and Physical Education, under the direction of Dr. Joseph P. Dolan, offers education and practice in correct health methods and administration and offers opportunities for participation in a program of extracurricular physical education. The division also offers a sound program of inter-collegiate athletic competition.

In conjunction with the division, the College is a member of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA); National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA); and the department of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Programs.

Language Curriculum Adds Speech Courses

Division work in the Language and Literature Department included revision in both English and Speech courses. This division, under the direction of Dr. Allen P. Whitmore, proposes to guide and motivate the student in the skills and art of human communication. It offers degrees in English, German, French, and Speech; and also offers work in Latin and in Publications to meet the Missouri requirements for certification in the secondary schools.

A new speech course taken for one, two, or three hours credit to the undergraduate students was added to the Language and Literature curriculum this year. Another new course, oral interpretation for English majors, was also added to their curriculum.

The give-and-take atmosphere of classroom discussion is here embodied by English majors during a seminar.

Mathematics Division Offers New Curriculum

Mathematics courses are designed to prepare teachers of mathematics for secondary schools and junior colleges; to provide a basis of mathematics for education of the elementary teachers; and to provide courses of study in mathematics pertaining to professions in industry, business, and government.

Curriculum offered by the division now provides an opportunity for the student to begin his individual study of mathematics at an appropriate level where he is challenged at which he can succeed.

Bachelor of Science in Education degree, Bachelor of Science degree, and the Master of Arts degree are all available under the division of Mathematics.

Library Hours Extended; Old Building Remodelled

Remodeling Pickler Memorial Library was the biggest revision taking place in the Library Division this year. New lighting and carpeting were installed, and an outside book deposit was added for the convenience of the students. Library hours were also extended after many student requests suggested this convenience.

Main objectives of the library and its staff are to provide the best service possible to the campus community. One of the main yearly attractions to the students is the Best Student Library Contest. In this contest, students are awarded prizes and scholarships on the basis of the size and completeness of their own home libraries.

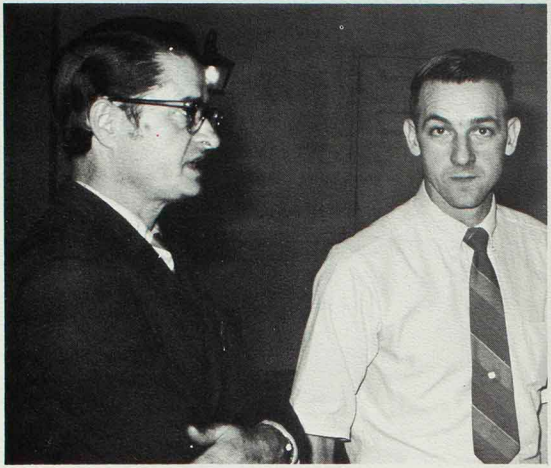

This year the Library Division showed exhibits in the main lobby of the library. These exhibits corresponded with shows or happenings on campus, and helped to keep students better informed about campus activities.

Mr. George Hartje, Head of the Library Division, glances at one of the current periodicals.

Reserve books are alphabetized by letter and by instructor for the convenience of students working on special assignments or detailed reports.

Dr. Roland Nagel discusses some current division problem with John Kenney.

Division Relocation Creates New Problems

Students encountered various problems as they adjusted to the relocation of the Industrial Arts Division in their newer home across campus. Transportation, parking, and scheduling all were minor problems which irritated students; but by the end of the year, effective solutions were being sought. The new building provided much greater space and improved equipment, and it also allowed for a greater expansion of existing industrial programs. One such program was the major in driving and safety education now available to interested students.

Plans for the future are devoted to making use of added equipment in the area of industrial plastics, power mechanics, and woodworking; the division also worked on the formulation of one- and two-year technical programs with various options available.

SP Division Begins New Reading Laboratory

Needy students received special attention this year from the division of Special Programs. Special Programs offered a variety of services to individual students including a reading laboratory in Kirk Building, hearing evaluation or assistance with any speech or communication problems, and an extra program for both special education and speech pathology. Clinical services were not only provided for any college student, but have been extended to include people from surrounding areas.

Speech Pathology has made the greatest gains this school year. Started in 1965, the Speech Pathology Program was given accreditation by the Education and Training Board of Directors of the American Board of Examiners in Speech Pathology and Audiology. Speech Pathology, along with Special Education, doubled in the number of graduates and undergraduates enrolled in the program.

New revisions in curriculum were incorporated into the science department this year. Courses were taught in such ways as to better prepare the students to become teachers. These new teaching methods were especially predominant in the freshman classes of Biological Inquiry, Earth Science, and Physical Science.

New innovations in the science department included a special Science Seminar. The seminar, which was designed for both science and non-science majors, featured guest speakers who discussed the many ways in which science and society interact. Lectures on ecology and environment were also presented.

Because of the shortage of federal funds, the division felt honored to have been awarded a research grant in the field of physics. With this grant, the division purchased a new $13,000 analog computer. Advanced students in the fields of biology, physics, and chemistry used this new computer in the setting up and solving of many scientific problems.

Home Economics Division Organizes New Panels

The Home Economics division curriculum is designed to allow majors in the field to teach particular areas of emphasis. Practical application of subject matter is possible in clothing construction classes, food preparation laboratories, child development laboratories, and residence in the home management house.

Improvements in the division this year were the addition of many conveniences to the home management house, closed circuit television for the viewing of prospective student teaching lessons, and the setting up of faculty-student panels. Students met with faculty members on a regular basis for discussion and criticism of the home economics curriculum.

Social Science Adds Law Enforcement Degree

This year has seen a definite increase in the number of social science majors and minors, particularly in the fields of political science and sociology. Accounting for this increase was a broadening of the social science curriculum and degree program.

Biggest change in the Social Science Division was adoption of a new Law Enforcement program. This law program, under the direction of Clyde Burch, is helping to alleviate the country's great need for intelligent, well-educated law enforcement officials. A B.S. degree program was offered and, in addition, one-year and two-year certificate programs were available.

The personnel of the Social Science Division has been extra busy this year. Dr. Ruth Towne wrote and saw published A Winner Never Quits, the life of Walter H. Ryle. Mr. William Kitts returned with valuable information from his trip to Africa on a study of life and cultural patterns. In addition, the Social Science Division co-sponsored a seminar this fall dealing with contemporary India.

Colonel John Gerrity heads NMSC's ROTC program.

ROTC Helps Students With Military Careers

The Reserve Officer's Training Corps, under the direction of Colonel John Gerrity, is in its second year at NMSC. The division now has thirteen military personnel on its staff and three civilians.

The purpose of the ROTC program is to enable qualified students to be ranked as second lieutenants in the Army after graduation. In the program, all freshman male students are required to take two semesters of ROTC. In the total program there are also one hundred sophomores, nineteen juniors, and eighteen seniors. This year, NMSC has eight students on four year scholarships; one on a two year scholarship, and three on three year scholarships.

There have been many changes in this year's curriculum. All general courses are now for freshmen and sophomores, and all tactics and weapons are reserved for advanced students.

ROTC sponsors two rifle teams, Varsity and ROTC. It has an ROTC Drill Team, and CACTOR, the ROTC advanced cadets. The officers of ROTC sponsor IFC, the K-dets, and Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

ACTIVITIES

Kenneth Sykes, director of the Student Union, works with the Student Union Board and other students to plan activities and coordinate programs which take place in the SUB.

Student Union Centers Campus Activities

Students, faculty, and guests of the college campus enjoy the many activities centered in the Student Union. A snack bar, cafeteria, bookstore, barber shop, games room, study lounge, and a TV room are located in the building for the convenience and entertainment of the students.

The Student Union works with the Union Board in the promotion of special activities for the entire student body. Various tournaments, contests, and awards are given frequently in the SUB Games Room. The large Activities Room is the setting for some of the special dances on campus, and the upstairs meeting rooms host many organizational meetings.

Led by Brooke Williams, the 1970-71 Student Senate made great steps in promoting the general welfare of the NMSC students. At the beginning, the Senate set up 12 standing committees to take care of needed tasks for the year.

In Activities, the Senate sponsored the Homecoming, providing funds for the dance, the queen election, and the parade. During the year they also sponsored the Christmas Dance with music by the Chestman; the Fun Festival in March featuring the Chambers Brothers; and the Echo Dance. They also supported the Folk Show sponsored by AKL and STG.

Throughout the year, the Senate has financially helped many organizations on campus including the NEMO Singers, ABC, and the Womens Extramural Program. They are also sending three students of the social science department up to the model United Nations in New York.

Open Forums have also been sponsored so that students could voice their opinions about the campus. It rejuveniated the Student Review Board, and sponsored the Student Senate Movies. The Senate also worked hand in hand with faculty committees in setting up the Lyceum Program and revising a calendar schedule for next year.

Student Union Board Organizes Committees

The members of the Student Union Board, advised by Mr. Kenneth Sykes, put in their second successful year of service to the students and faculty of the college and the Kirksville community at large. The Board is comprised of six separate committees with an over-all purpose to actively promote and most efficient and beneficial operation of Student Union facilities, and to maintain a well rounded social and educational life on campus.

This year's interests included a Friday night film program, pool and bowling tournaments, work on the annual Christmas dance, and publicity on all activities held at the Union. In addition, as the Board is still in its formative years, many meetings were devoted to planning its future course of action in hopes of better service.

Service Function is Key to Mentor's Role

Student Mentors are a tradition on campus, and provide the College with a body to call upon in the performances of routine, but necessary, tasks. Assistance with the problems inherent in registration procedures was one of their annual responsibilities; they also assisted in the orientation of freshmen in the Fall. On Parents Day and on Senior Day, the Mentors served as guides and ambassadors of goodwill for the College.

Mentors were upperclassmen who had volunteered and were selected on the basis of scholarship, personal adjustment and a demonstrated interest in helping others adjust to campus life. They are selected for a period of one year by the Student Personnel Services office; but, reappointment is possible for a succeeding year or until graduation.

Cardinal Key Sponsors Successful Button Sale

Kathy Powell discusses the progress of the Carousel of Clubs, a program sponsored by Cardinal Key in the winter.

Members of Cardinal Key began this year with sixteen new members anxious to assume their duties and responsibilities. Thus the annual project of selling Homecoming buttons was quite a success, with part of the proceeds being used to finance the Nan E. Wade Scholarship. This scholarship is awarded annually in the Spring to a selected, deserving young woman displaying leadership qualities. Prior to this button project, members had aided in the facilitation of registration procedures for the Fall semester.

Cardinal Key has been active on campus for over 35 years; it is a national honor society for women of junior and senior status, with membership limited to 25 women who show characteristics of high scholarship, leadership, and service to the school and the community.

Other activities engaged in included: providing ushers for the East India Conference; sponsoring the Carousel of Clubs night as a device for students to become more familiar with campus organizations; an annual tea to honor women students and faculty members; providing Christmas trees for the library and the SUB; and assisting Blue Key in the preparations necessary for the Red Cross Bloodmobile visit in April.

The John R. Kirk chapter of the Blue Key National Honor fraternity began the year with the introduction of 13 new members in an effort to replace graduating seniors. Once again, members took the responsibility for the conduction of the Homecoming Parade as well as maintenance of the Blue Key travel board.

Membership requirements include: being of junior status, active membership in at least two campus organizations, a cumulative honor point of 3.0, and recommendations by three faculty members.

Blue Key involved itself in various other projects throughout the year. In the Fall, members spent long hours compiling and selling the Blue Key Directory. This was followed by the banquet for incoming members and the planning for the annual Red Cross Bloodmobile visit in the spring. Finally, the club spent time preparing questions and answers for the Campus Bowl held in early spring; and to close out the year there was the Spring banquet for incoming members.

Millionaire Accepts Honorary Membership

The late J. C. Penney was last year's honorary member in the Business Administration Club. This year's honorary club member is millionaire and businessman, Lamar Hunt.

Multi-millionaire and businessman, Lamar Hunt, accepted honorary membership in the Business Administration Club this year. At the annual spring banquet, the membership was formally presented and accepted.

Hunt joins honorary members Dr. Paul O. Selby, Dean of Instruction Emeritus of NMSC, and the late J. C Penney, founder of the J. C. Penney Company. All honorary members were formally initiated into the organization within the past few years.

Activities of the Business Administration Club this year included sponsoring a Homecoming Queen candidate. Various guest speakers were heard at the monthly meetings, and lectures were presented on business topics of current interest.

Organized in the Fall of 1966, the Business Administration Club seeks to make students more aware of the world of business and to give them training so they can accept the challenges of the business world. To become a member, a student must be a Business Administration major, have an overall grade point average of 2.0, and be a student in good standing with the Business Division.

Pi Omega Pi Promotes Business Fellowship

Founded in 1923, the Alpha chapter of Pi Omega Pi serves the College campus by bringing together present and future business educators in professional fellowship. Membership in this business education society continued to grow in 1971, with 14 new members joining in the past year. From the founding chapter at the College, Pi Omega Pi, has grown into a national organization with chapters in 34 states.

In addition to the annual Christmas party and Spring picnic, the club sponsored a skating party in January, a Christmas candy sale, and various other special projects designed to meet the interests of members. In October, Mrs. Beverly Wait spoke to the group on vocational teaching experiences; in addition to speeches of this type, the organization also sponsored panel discussions with members who had completed student teaching. Three representatives were sent as delegates to the National Convention of Pi Omega Pi in December in an effort to keep the local chapter in contact with new ideas and techniques in the field of business education.

Plans for the future included the completion of a follow-up study of business education graduates of the past year, and the further compilation of an Alumni Mailing List which is made available to graduates upon request.

English Club Features Poetry by Dr. Wilson

The larger part of the year's agenda for the English Club was comprised of readings and informal prose and poetry originals shared by student and faculty writers; Dr. Herman Wilson provided one of the year's highlights with his poetry reading, given in the winter.

Other social projects for the year included a candy sale conducted with the intention of using the profits from it to defray the expenses entailed in bringing in a speaker. The club also sponsored their traditional get-acquainted social for club members and the Language and Literature faculty. Participation in various all-school activities, discussions by student teachers, and attendance at noted theatre productions served to round out the social year.

Organized in 1963, the club strives to make members become more knowledgeable concerning teaching problems, and encourages active participation in reading, writing, and interpretation of literature. The club in open to all students, faculty, and staff members interested in various aspects of language and literature.

S.C.E.C. Members Attend National Convention

This year the emphasis was on action and the Student Council for Exceptional Children did plenty of it. In hopes of increasing membership and generally revitalizing their organization, SCEC members launched a series of service activities. Some fifteen parties were held throughout the year at the Nursing Home, the Sheltered Workshop, and the Diagnostic Clinic. In addition, SCEC members took four days of their time to paint the School for Exceptional Children.

Fund-raising projects included selling Valentine Heart-O-Grams, a roller skating party, and various raffles. These were held to finance some twenty delegates to the SCEC National Convention to be held in Miami Beach. SCEC also successfully sponsored member Annie Clark, first runner-up in the Homecoming Queen contest.

Under the sponsorship of Dr. Jeff Mitchell, SCEC is comprised of persons interested in better understanding the needs of the handicapped. Other than Special Education majors, membership is encouraged from all areas in order to widen the scope of the program. Regular monthly meetings feature films and guest lecturers in the profession.

A.C.E. Observes New Concept In Class Division

For anyone interested in the education of the younger set, ages 2 to 12, the Association for Childhood Education was the place to be this year. This campus group, which is a local chapter of an international organization, is professionally oriented. The years' activities included visits to the Diagnostic Clinic, to various kindergarten classrooms in the area, and a special tour of the new Intermediate School containing only grades 4, 5, and 6. ACE members again threw their annual Christmas party for children from the Kirksville elementary schools. Members wound up the year with a tea in the Activities Room of the SUB at which new officers were recognized.

The monthly meetings of ACE featured guest speakers and flims. Team teaching, year-round school, and ungraded classrooms were some of the topics presented. Future plans for ACE include delegate attendance at the International Conference to be held in Milwaukee in April.

Members of Kappa Omicron Phi began the year with a "Get Acquainted" dance held at the Student Union. Later in the year, there was a Founder's Day Banquet with Dr. M. Hoffman from Ft. Hays, Kansas, providing the main speech.

Beta Nu chapter of Kappa Omicron Phi was initiated on campus on May 4, 1968. The purpose of the organization is to provide interested women with higher ideals of sane living, a deeper appreciation of the sanctity of the home, and broader social, intellectual, and cultural attainments. Membership requirements are a 3.0 honor point in at least eight hours of Home Economics and a 2.5 ratio in all other courses.

Other activities this year included a bake sale, a mending day, and the selection of Barb Feys as national student representative. One of the club's major goals was the adoption of a child through responsibility for his support. Major plans for the future include the continuation of the child adoption project and laying plans for the district meeting of Kappa Omicron Phi to be held here next fall.

SNEA Club Cooperates With Local Chapters

Reorganization of committees into four main groups was an innovation of the Student National Education Association on the College campus in 1971. The four new committees were Social, Program, Future Teacher Association, and Publicity. They were made up of members of SNEA, with each club member serving on at least one committee.

Service project of SNEA this year was a Future Teachers of America Committee which cooperated with local high school chapters of Future Teachers Associations. Students worked with high school chapters to help initiate new and bigger SNEA chapters.

The Student National Education Association is affiliated with Missouri State Teachers Association and the National Education Association. Delegates to state convention in Kansas City were Karen Wilderman, Barbara Cooper, and Jill Wilson.

Dr. Howard Terry is sponsor of SNEA. The organization is open to all students who plan a career in teaching. Funds are provided by dues from members, and are used for administrative expenses and social activities.

Colhecon Sponsors Hospitality Night

Colhecon plan the homecoming float co-sponsored with the Ag Club.

April 6 marked Hospitality Night for the members of Colhecon, as the F.H.A. and Home Economics groups of the surrounding area brought girls to tour NMSC at the request of Colhecon. Members also sponsored an Ironing Day in an effort to collect some revenue to generate other activities.

This club has been active for over 50 years, promoting a professional attitude for future home economists. One of the club's activities was the sending of members to home economics' meetings in Warrensburg and Kansas City, in an effort to broaden their experiences. During Homecoming, the organization co-sponsored a float with the Agriculture Club; later in the year, members have a choral performance at the local nursing home. In May, members held a Spring Banquet to honor graduating seniors chosen outstanding in various areas of home economics; Josephine Flory was chosen as guest speaker on that day.

Oral Interpreters, founded by Dr. Elizabeth Worrell on November 21, 1958, has as its purpose the sharing of the enjoyment of literature with both public audiences and other members of the group. Services and activities have grown considerably, reflecting the growth on a nationwide basis, of the art form itself of presenting literature through oral performance.

This year, programs for both campus audiences and civic organizations included: "Hannah", "But We Showed That Coyote", "Spoon River Anthology", "Season's Reading", and "Gwendolyn Brook's Reading Hour".

As part of their agenda they attended the Oral Interpretation Festival at Terre Haute, Indiana, and the Oral Interpretation Festival at Columbia, Missouri. In April they also participated in the Ozark Festival in Springfield, Missouri.

Oral Interpreters and College Players work together for better expression.

College Players Use New Original Talents

"The Taming of the Shrew" by William Shakespeare, "The Caretaker" by Harold Pinter, "Madame Butterfly" by Puccini and given in conjunction with the Music Department, "Your Own Thing" a rock musical, and "Three One-Act Off-Off Broadway Plays" were the productions of the past year by the College Players. Original talents were incorporated in the student production in the Spring, the Kinetic Film Show. The Humor Trophy was received for the organization's Homecoming float.

Highlights of the year included trips to UMKC and the KRNT theatre in Des Moines. The year's activities ended at the annual Spring Banquet, where awards were given for best Actor and Actress, Best Supporting Actor and Actress, and Service Award.

College Players also sponsored the Film Club, an organization which brings outstanding movies to the College. This year, these movies included "On the Waterfront" and the Academy Award-winning "Darling."

A.P.O. Assists Campus; Organizes Activities

Epsilon chapter of Alpha Phi Omega assisted the Kirksville Junior Chamber of Commerce and several local scouting groups in various projects throughout the year. The club also assisted the United Fund in its local fund drive.

During the year, A.P.O. also held its annual Ugly Man Contest, with proceeds going to the Heart Fund. Members built squirrel houses in an attempt to protect the animals from the elements, and they also assisted in the direction of the Homecoming activities.

Other activities included the promotion of a film festival and the sending of two delegates to the national convention held in Dallas in December.

Native Foods Highlight International Night

Member John Huenemann appears rather tired as he assists at the exhibit sponsored by the club at the "Carousel of Clubs."

Promoting friendship and understanding among students of different nationalities is one of the goals of the International Club. Students from many countries meet monthly to discuss similarities, differences, and problems which exist both between and within countries.

Goals of the organization are carried out in many of their yearly activities, including the traditional "International Night." On this night, club members dress in their traditional costumes and serve foods from their native countries to other guests and faculty members. Over 1000 people usually attend this banquet.

Membership in the organization includes over 150 students from 30 different countries. Student members participated this year, for the first time, in the college intramural basketball and volleyball competition and in the ping pong tournaments.

Circle K Book Exchange Service A Success

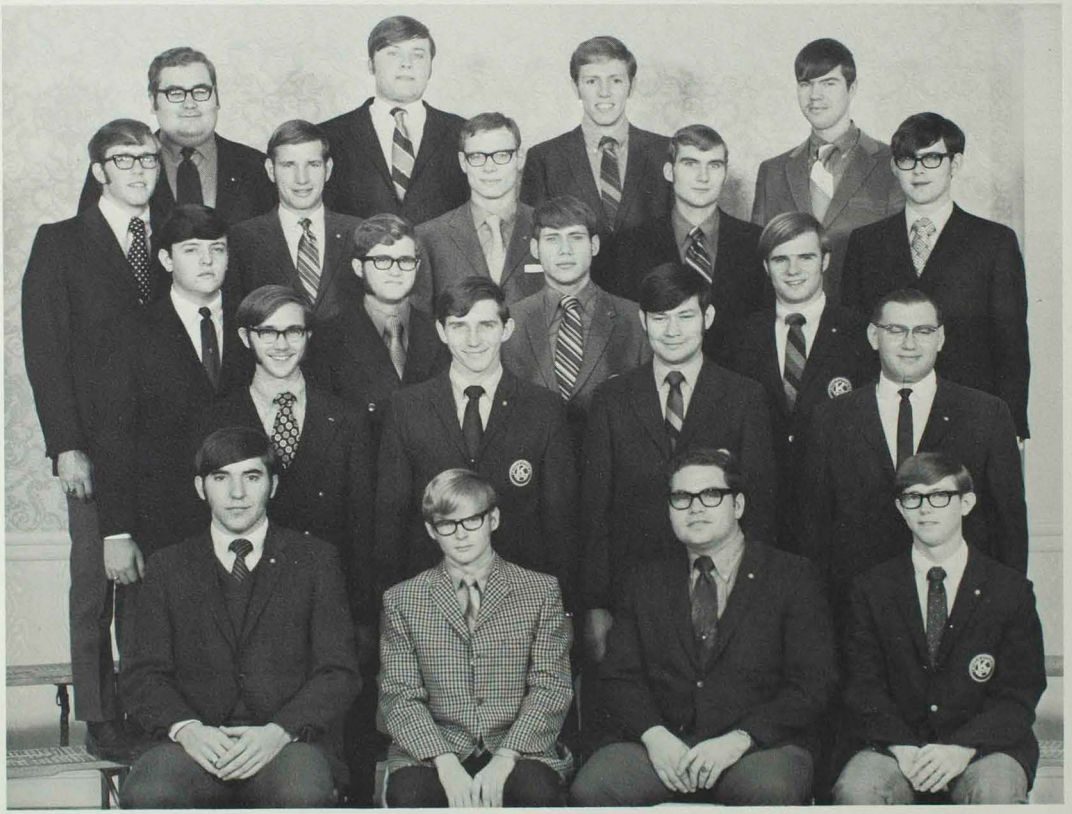

Working with their International theme, "Answers Through Action," Circle K was an active organization on the College campus.

The Missouri-Arkansas District convention held April 16-18 in Columbia, was the highlight of the year with the NMSC club ranking high among the clubs from other college campuses throughout the two states.

Circle K initiated two annual projects in 1970-71. One of these projects, "Operation Christmas Card," sent 1,100 Christmas cards to servicemen overseas. Through publicity, Circle K collected cards from people in four states.

On the campus level, Circle K began the New Book Exchange Service, which helped students in both buying and selling books. The club kept files with over 5,000 listings of people who had books for sale. Many students used the free service which was very successful in its first year of operation.

Other activities of Circle K include assisting during Homecoming, working at the Admissions Office information table on Saturdays, and providing free coat checks at all Lyceum programs. The club also assisted the United Fund and the Salvation Army as well as holding several social activities.

Phi Delta Kappa Promotes Free Education

Phi Delta Kappa was founded in 1910 as a consolidation of three interdependent fraternities at Indiana University, Columbia University, and the University of Missouri. Campus chapters are now located at colleges and universities throughout North America. Requirements to become a memmer of this organization are that a semester of graduate work be done with superior grades. Since its beginning in 1928, this NMSC chapter has initiated more than 500 men into this honorary fraternity.

Officers for the 70-71 year were: president, Larry Boleach; vice-president, Gail Albright; and secretary-treasurer, Emil Green.

The purpose of this international fraternity of men in professional education is promoting free public education which is essential to develope and maintenance of a democracy. The organization is based on the cornerstones of research, service, and leadership.

54 New Members Added To Honor Fraternity

Alpha chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma, national honor fraternity, celebrated a banner year with 54 new members being initiated during fall semester. Special guest speakers at chapter meetings were Major William Andrews, of the College ROTC program, who spoke on the Vietnam war; and Joseph Alloway, a student at NMSC, who spoke on the topic of Zero Population Growth.

Each semester Alpha Phi Sigma awards two $25 scholarships to the organization's member who raises his cumulative grade point the most number of points. This year scholarships were awarded to Nancy Wood and Beverly Moore.

The traditional Alpha Phi Sigma banquet was held this year in April. Many special guests and friends of the organization attended this dinner.

Historical Society Goes To State Capitol

The Eugene Fair Chapter of the National Historical Society, oldest continuing organization on campus, boasted an active 64th year. Its ninety members, under the directorship of Dr. Gilbert Kohlenberg, took part in three interesting and successful field trips - to Arrow Rock, Missouri, to the state capitol at Jefferson City, and to the University of Missouri Archeological Research Center and Field School in Van Meter State Park. The social high point of the year came at the annual Spring Banquet, held in March in conjunction with Phi Alpha Theta, where Dr. William Parrish spoke on Missouri's Sesquicentennial anniversary.

Membership in the Historical Society is open to all students and faculty interested in the fields of history and social science.

Third Year On Campus For Phi Alpha Theta

Nu Chi Chapter of national organization Phi Alpha Theta, spent a busy third year on campus extending its membership and pursuing points of historical interest. Under the sponsorship of Dr. David March, Phi Alpha Theta engaged several guest speakers including Dr. John Hines and Dr. Roger Cody of the college faculty. Social activities were highlighted in the annual Spring Banquet co-sponsored with the Historical Society. Last spring several Phi Alpha Theta members attended a regional meeting at Springfield, Mo. and will also attend this year's meeting in Fulton, Mo.

Requirements for membership in the history honor club are twelve hours of history with a minimum of a 3.1 grade average and a 3.0 honor point ratio in two-thirds of the remaining classes with a 2.86 average overall.

Symington Gives Talk For Young Democrats

The Young Democrats provided the campus with political impetus this past year by furnishing various politically oriented lectures and guest speakers. In October, U.S. Senator Stuart Symington gave a rather ordinary political speech prior to his reelection. Other guests included Robert LaCore, 95th District Representative, and Juvenile Court Judge Bruce Normile.

Organized in 1960, Young Democrats was the first chartered political organization on campus dedicated to the advancement of a national party. During the 1970 elections, the members provided assistance to the local party headquarters as a part of their national affiliation. This year saw a change in political topics ranging from the traditional political history and new government programs to current problems which exist in our military forces. Activities for the year included a Fall lake party, a Spring banquet, and several slide shows. Plans for the future include the above topics, as well as explorations into the future role of the American political organization.

The talk given by Symington concerned current political events.

Speech Path Club Welcomes New Members

The Speech Pathology Organization embarked on its second full year at NMSC with high hopes of extending its membership. This they successfully accomplished as members now total about thirty. One of the first activities of the year was a Welcome Party held at Mary Immaculate Church Hall for the newcomers.

The basic purpose of SPO is to orient its members into the professional world of speech pathology. Monthly meetings are devoted to guest lecturers and films dealing with speech disorders and new therapy. In addition to speech pathology majors new membership is especially encouraged for elementary education majors as speech problems should be detected and corrected at an early age.

Club activities for the year included a Spring membership drive picnic at the Lake, which SPO hopes to make an annual event, and participation in the local Cerebral Palsy drive. For her work on this project member Glenna Novinger was awarded a $100 scholarship by the State Cerebral Palsy Organization. Looking to the future, SPO hopes to hold several fund-raising activities in order to purchase hearing aids for the needy.

Kappa Mu Epsilon Promotes Excellence in Math

Members of Kappa Mu Epsilon began the year with a drive for increased participation in campus affairs. In an effort to enable math students to attain better academic achievements, the club maintained the tutorial program which it had established last year.

Organized on campus two years ago, Kappa Mu Epsilon is a national honorary mathematics society. Membership is eligible for those who maintain high academic scholarship in mathematics.

Other activities initiated this year included: the founding of the Math Solution Club as an offshoot of KME; featured speakers from the faculty and the seniors; and attendance at a meeting of the Missouri Council of Teachers, held in Jefferson City. Special spring activities included a barbecue at Thousand Hills State Park and the sending of a delegation to the regional convention of Kappa Mu Epsilon.

Y.E.S. Helps Establish Scientific Leadership

Science Major Charlotte McKiddy offers presentation to Y.E.S. members at monthly meeting.

"Building Scientific Leadership" is the motto of the Young Engineers and Scientists. The judging of local, district, and regional science fairs is only one of the organization's activities designed to carry out their motto.

Under the leadership of Bob Maddex, president, the members of Y.E.S. this year were stuffed at banquets and stuck at hayrides! They participated also in picnics, cookouts, regional science meetings, are helped to establish Y.E.S. chapters in area high schools.

October was Science Youth Month and the NMSC chapter of Young Engineers and Scientists observed the month with activities and plans for this year. A membership drive was also begun this month to interest more people in the organization, and a display was presented in the lobby of the Student Union to encourage and interest prospective members.

Other activities which culminated a busy year included leadership conferences at Brookfield and Elsberry and the hosting of the State Y.E.S. Convention held this year in April on our campus.

Pre-Os Club Initiates New Ecology Seminar

Row 4: Lynn Zechman, Chet Robbins, Gary Wamhoff, Lloyd Cleaver, Phil Slocum, Larry Dickinson, Robert Upton, Mike Mahoney.

A three day ecology seminar sponsored by the Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery proved to be the highlight of the year for the Pre-Osteopathic Club. This seminar engaged several nationally recognized experts and provided rare insight and an unusual opportunity to learn more about this new area of interest and concern. Other activities for the year included an annual address by F. M. Walter, Dean of Students at K.C.O.S., an Easter party for the children of the Diagnostic Clinic, a tour of K.C.O.S. campus with an anatomy pit demonstration, and the annual membership banquet.

Under the sponsorship of Dr. John Black, the Pre-Os Club is unusual in that it is the first and only organization of its kind in the world. Its purpose is to offer its members both a professional and social structure. It strives to help members keep up with the rapid changes occurring in medical science today, and to prepare them for a future position in the professional world.

Individual Programs Promote Knowledge

Members of Sigma Zeta found a solution to the problem of how to disseminate the information and research problems occurring in their chosen fields; it was arranged that at each of their regular monthly meetings, one member gave a discussion on whatever topic interested him. Thus, the club was able to obtain program presentations in various fields of scientific interest.

Delta chapter of Sigma Zeta is the national honorary science and math society on campus. Active membership is open to juniors and seniors who are math or science majors and who have a 2.87 cumulative G.P.A., with a 3.0 in science and math courses. Associate membership is extended to freshmen and sophomores exhibiting potential for attaining active requirements.

Last April saw the sponsor and two officers attend the national convention in Marshall, Missouri; this year's convention was held in Frostburg, Md.

Objectives for the future are to encourage continued advancements in the fields of science and mathematics, to promote and recognize scholastic achievement, and to foster friendly social activities.

New Radio Club Members Teach "How to be a Ham"

"How to be a Ham" is taught to all new club members of the Amateur Radio Club. Novice, General, Advanced, and Extra-Class are the four levels available in the skills area; each level is progressively higher and harder to obtain. Most of the organization's members now hold the "General" level title and are working toward the more advanced and specialized levels.

Code practice oscillators are used at all club meetings to help gain a higher code speed rate. Members also read and discuss together different articles in the "American Radio Relay League Publication." This promotes better understanding and greater knowledge about the theory and practice of radio.

Membership in the Amateur Radio Club is steadily increasing. To belong to this organization, a student needs only to be interested in field of radio and broadcasting.

Agriculture Club Sets New Membership Goals

Campaigns for new Agriculture Club goals increased the membership and the student's participation in agriculture activities. Club members studied together, worked to improve the Agriculture division on campus, and discussed in groups some new and more efficient farming techniques and procedures.

Agriculture Club members, each year, help judge farm animal shows and cattle exhibits. This year, students participated, both as contestants and judges, in various livestock fairs and showings around the Northeast Missouri area.

Speakers were heard at the monthly meetings, and programs for farming benefits and governmental curriculum were outlined. Attendants at the meetings were encouraged to bring any new agriculture news to the group for discussion and review.

Agriculture Club is sponsored by Dr. Larry Davis, of the Practical Arts faculty. Membership is open to any student with an interest in agriculture or farming.

Collegiate 4-H Club Has Busy Third Year

Having marked its third year on campus, Collegiate 4-H embarked upon a rather innovative project in the spring. This was a five county workshop featuring the officers of all high school 4-H clubs within the area. This project continued for one month, with the main goal that of helping the participants to become more involved in service and community projects.

Founded in 1968, the 4-H Club is a service and social organization dedicated to helping the College in any projects requiring assistance. All students interested in 4-H work are eligible to join.

Activities included a volleyball party, a lake picnic, and a Christmas party. In November, Mrs. Linda Pettijohn gave a presentation on welfare and the problems surrounding it. Other talks were given designed to aid high school 4-H Clubs in planning for low income families. During the year, Larry Jones was elected delegate to the State Planning Committee. Future plans include the undertaking of more service projects and a membership drive.

Club Banquet Honors Outstanding Members

The annual Spring Banquet, serving to honor outstanding members in the club, was the highlight of this year's Industrial Arts Club.

Participation in the Homecoming Parade was a major project, with members utilizing their technical skills to produce another good float. For the past several years, the club has captured the first-place trophy in the mechanical division of the floats. In addition to Homecoming activities, members also participated in the trips to industrial sites to see a practical side to their training; there were also various fund-raising projects held throughout the year, with emphasis placed on building the club membership.

Each year members submit ideas which they feel can further develop the Industrial Arts Division. The main objective of the club is to create interest in the field for I.A. majors and minors. Functioning as a social professional organization, it celebrated its thirteenth anniversary this year.

Veterans' Club Boasts Increased Membership

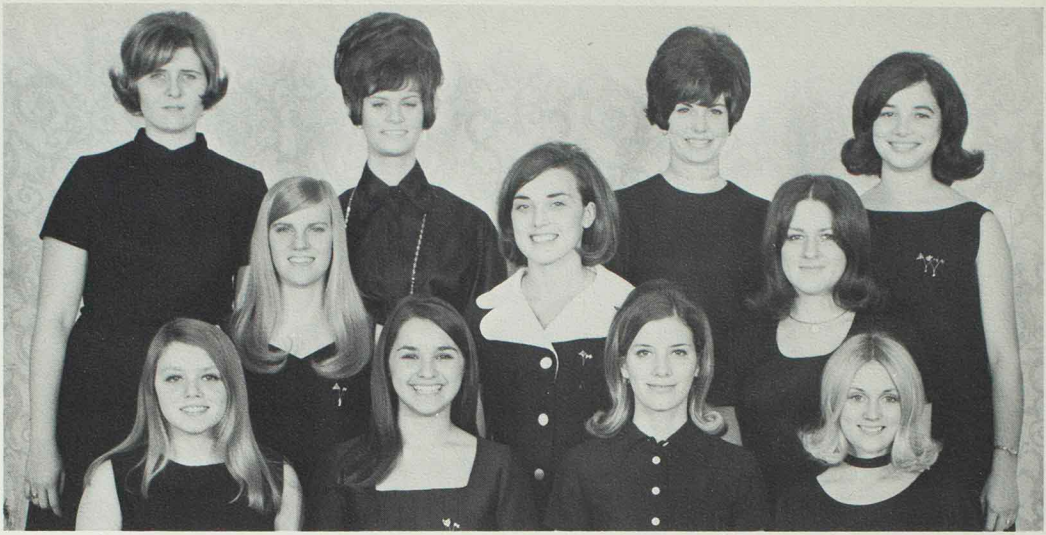

Kristin Linneman, 1970 Homecoming Queen, sponsored by the Veteran's Club expresses her happiness upon her selection as the queen to reign over Homecoming festivities.

With representatives from all branches of the armed forces, the Veterans' Club increased its membership up to eighty-three actives. The increase allowed members to actively pursue an increased participation in campus affairs.

The Vets' Club was established in November of 1966 and was designated Ronald K. Cullers Memorial Veterans' Club in honor of the first graduate of NMSC to be killed in the war in southeast Asia.

This year the Vets gave their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children in conjunction with help from two sororities; the kids were entertained by Santa, toys, Christmas carols, and refreshments. The club also sponsored Kristin Linneman as the successful Homecoming Queen candidate. Members also furnished the runner-up in the 1970 Campus Bowl, as well as sponsoring a car wash and various parties. On March 5, the club had its formal party; this was soon followed by planning for next year.

College Ushers Assist With Campus Programs

College usher assists spectators at one of the many all-school functions.

College Ushers, in basic black dresses complimented by purple and white corsages, provided service in seating students and faculty at various College programs held both in Baldwin Hall and Pershing Arena. This year the girls assisted with the Lyceum programs, the Art Buchwald lecture, the Chambers Brother's concert, and many plays and concerts presented by College Players and the campus band and orchestra. Closing the activities for the year was the ushering in of guests at the Spring Commencement exercises.

Organized in April, 1959, with the opening of the new College Auditorium, the College Ushers have been serving since then for numerous campus functions. The group helps campus members with many all-school activities and programs.

Projects for this year's Student Nurses Association included assisting at the Red Cross Bloodmobile, participating in the annual Student Nurses Association Week, giving a parting for the residents of the Adair County Nursing Home, and selling candles and Christmas paper to raise money. A Christmas party for members and the pinning ceremony for last year's graduates proved to be the top social events of the year. The traditional goal of 100% membership was realized this year due to the efforts of an energetic campaign.

Student Nurses tackled the big question of the academic year, the future of the nursing division, with a passion. Unfortunately their efforts were apparently unsuccessful. As of next year the nursing major is being phased out. Only seniors will finish and get their degrees with no incoming freshmen or sophomore to start. Reasons for the phase-out are reported to be problems in accredidation and teaching staff.

Dorm Council Begins New Open-Dorm Policy

The Men's Dorm Council sets up rules and regulations for living in the dormitories. They sponsor dorm activities and encourage student participation in campus affairs.

The Men's Dorm Council, newly initiated last year, brought many vital new issues before the board in the past year. The open dorm policy was reinitiated after its trial and subsequent failure last fall. A Dorm Decoration Contest for Homecoming was also introduced and sponsored by Mu Epsilon Nu. A car rally contest was held and won by Jim Mullendore; another such rally was sponsored in the Spring.

The Council, formed last year as a student voice for improving campus life, sets up rules governing men's residence halls and maintains a court which permits student participation in disciplinary cases. Its goal is to bring about more student control in dormitory life. Other activities include the sponsor or dances, this year featuring "Fire and Ice."

Women's Dorm Council Decorates for Holidays

Ryle Hall, Centennial Hall, Grim Hall, and Panhellenic Hall each elected Women's Dormitory Councils which were supervised by Dean Rita Gramman. Individual activities for each dorm were planned and carried out by the councils. Individual dormitory Christmas parties and door decoration contests were several of the activities sponsored by the councils. Homecoming and other holidays also brought out decorations which were coordinated by the Women's Dorm Council. Funds for these activities comes from dormitory dues which are collected within each dormitory yearly.

Spring semester brought election of officers for the following fall. Women serving as officers of the council must be of sophomore class standing and have an honor point ratio of at least 2.5. Floor council-women are elected in the fall and must also be of sophomore status with an honor point ratio of at least 2.2. All of those serving on the council must have been a resident of a dormitory prior to their election.

Girls on the Council help initiate activities which will promote dorm unity, such as this picnic on the dormitory lawn.

Kansas City Tour Highlights The Year

The annual tour stretching to the Kansas City area served as this year's focal point for the Brass and Clarinet Choirs. This took place in early March, and included schools in Moberly, Columbia, and Kansas City.

Under the direction of Robert Scott, the Clarinet Choir also performed in concert at the University of Illinois in the spring; they also gave their campus concert shortly thereafter, using the smallness of the group as a means to exploration.

Meanwhile, the Brass Choir, directed by Dr. Roger Cody managed to keep fairly busy. In addition to performing special concerts all year, the Brass Choir participated in the Christmas candlelight concert in December as well as giving a campus concert in the spring.

Members of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia practice for a half-time program to be presented at a home Bulldog basketball game.

Phi Mu Alpha Plays for Basketball Games

Upsilon Phi chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia initiated 13 pledges at the beginning of Spring semester swelling the membership to 30 active members. Activities of the organization expanded during their third year on campus. As an international music fraternity, the Sinfonias provided various musical services.

One of the main highlights of the year was the Jazz Festival held February 6. It consisted of a competition in two classes for plaques and the opportunity to play on the concert stage that night. The winners in each class were the Adair Jazz Trio, and the Sinfonia Stage Band. Featured performer at the concert was Clark Terry, of the "Tonight Show".

Phi Mu Alpha's service projects included providing a pep band for the Homecoming Pep Rally and for the home basketball games. The pep band worked with the cheerleaders and the K-dettes to provide cheering routines and to help foster school spirit. The Sinfonia Stage Band played for numerous dances and proms during the year both on campus and in area high schools.

Chapter members attended a workshop at Central Methodist College in the Fall. Upsilon chapter won five out of seven awards for chapter excellence. Fraternity membership includes music and non-music majors in vocal and instrumental capacities.

WRA Sponsors Party At Diagnostic Clinic

Kathy Griswold goes in for a lay-up during a practice session of the women's extramural basketball team.

Faculty members of the women's physical education department were treated to gifts and a rest on Santa's lap at the W.R.A. Christmas party. Earlier in the Christmas season W.R.A. co-sponsored a party for the children at the Kirksville Regional Diagnostic Clinic.

W.R.A.'s annual "get-acquainted" party began the group's activities for the year. The club serves as a recreational outlet for all the coeds at the College.

The Women's Recreation Association sponsors both intramural and extramural sports for women at the College. Intramural sports included: volleyball, basketball, softball, tennis, badminton, and table tennis. Extramural teams in fieldhockey, volleyball, basketball, swimming, tennis, track and field, and softball participated in state tournaments as well as competing against teams from area colleges.

Varsity Club Holds Cook-Out At 1000 Hills

Twenty-five new members joined the Varsity Club at the College during the spring semester.

Movies corresponding with each sport of the season were shown at meetings held every two weeks during the year.

Dues from members is the source of funds for the Varsity Club. These funds provide a $50 cash award through the R. E. Valentine Memorial Scholarship. It is given each semester to the member of the Varsity Club with the highest grade point average for the semester.

Also an annual activity is a cook-out held at Thousand Hills State Park. Sponsored by the Varsity Club, members of the Health, and Physical Education division are honored guests, as well as club members.

Service project of the Varsity Club is manning concession stands at sports events during the entire sports season.

Ryan Delegate To AAHPER For Men's PE Club

Men's Physical Education Club at the College is affiliated with the AAHPER, which members are required to hold a student membership in.

Funds from dues collected from members each semester are used to continue the Richard Rhoads Memorial Scholarship awarded each semester to the Men's Physical Education Major club member who has the top honor point average, and who has distinguished himself in club as well as campus activities.

Howard Ryan was the club delegate to the national convention of AAHPER in Detroit, Michigan in the spring.

Service projects during recent years have included: collecting tickets at sports events and painting of the Salvation Army building by club members during the "Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up" campaign.

Beta Tau Delta Performs at Half-Time

Members Peggy Robinson and Kathy Folker show Beta Tau off at its best at "Carousel of Clubs" Night.

Kicking off the year's activities with an exciting appearance in the Homecoming Parade, the baton twirlers of Beta Tau Delta proved themselves an enthusiastic group of girls. Under the leadership of sponsor Marianne Giovannini, this professional baton twirling organization participated in several service projects and social events. Beta Tau members added color and spirit to basketball game half-time with their twirling precision and skill. Other highlights of the year were coke parties, a twirling presentation for the children and staff of the Diagnostic Clinic, formal initiation, and the wind-up of the busy year with a spring picnic at Thousand Hills Lake.

K-Dettes step lively in the Homecoming Parade.

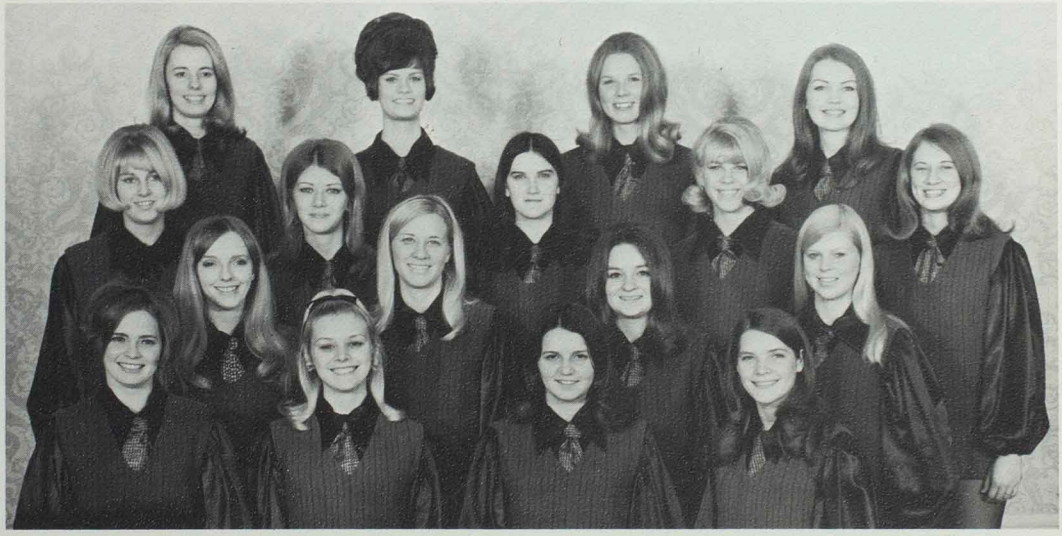

Various new maneuvers and techniques highlighted this year's K-Dette performances. Much emphasis was placed on dancing in their routines, rather than the previous years of marching.

The K-Dettes were chosen through try-outs in the beginning of the year by returning K-Dettes and the sponsor. Nine new girls were chosen along with two alternates. The girls promoted enthusiasm for College athletic teams through their performances in the Homecoming parade and basketball games.

K-Dettes obtained R.O.T.C. as their new sponsor under the leadership of Captain Strand. The sixteen member dance and drill team sponsored a car wash in the spring.

Synapse Expands To Include Student Art Work

Synapse, College magazine of the fine arts, has expanded each year since its initial publication in 1969. The original Synapse was limited to publishing student prose and poetry works only. In 1970, however, the magazine was expanded to include reproductions of student art work. The 1971 issue of Synapse included both literary and art work in a magazine of 60 pages as compared to last year's 48 page issue. Because of the increase in production costs these expansions involved, the 1971 Synapse was sold to interested students for 50c a copy. This money will be applied towards the 1972 Synapse. It will also be used to bring interesting speakers, related to the fine arts, to the college campus. In 1970 the magazine was responsible for presenting the acclaimed poet, Ronald Bayes, to the students of Northeast.

Since its initiation, Synapse has been under the supervision of Terrance Moser, of the Language and Literature division. This year, Brian Bedard is also acting as faculty advisor. The managing editor of the 1971 issue was Diane Baecht, while Marsha Cox was art editor and William Chalek served as editor of the literature division. Responsible for public relations was Erwin Neighbors, the 1971 business manager. The photography for this year's issue was taken by Farshid Assassi.

Members of the B.S.U. engaged in a series of statewide retreats in the southern part of Missouri; these retreats were sponsored by the Southern Baptist Convention and were held throughout the year.

B.S.U. functions in and through the local church, but centers its planning and leadership in an Executive Council on campus. This past year saw the Baptist Student Center, which formerly provided facilities for various campus organization events, bought by the college.

As a youth organization of Baptists in higher institutions of learning, the B.S.U. enlisted various speakers from the college during the year. Mr. Smits from the Social Science Division and Dr. Hoffman from the P.E. Division conducted talks with the group during the year.

In December, members gave a Christmas party for the Opportunity Center which entertained around 80 children. Other activities this year included the sponsoring of various socials and the election of new officers in the Spring.

Members of Gamma Delta were among the campus organizations which aided the Adair County United Fund Committee in raising money for this year's campaign.

Gamma Delta Members "Hike for the Hungry"

World hunger was one of the major concerns of students sharing in the work of Gamma Delta, a Lutheran student movement on campus. A community-wide "Hike for the Hungry" was organized and carried out with net proceeds of several thousand dollars designated for hunger projects around the world. During the fall semester students in Gamma Delta sponsored the sale of UNICEF greeting cards in the effort to raise further help for the United Nations Children's Fund.

Gamma Delta serves as the framework for some of the activities of a Lutheran campus ministry. It is aimed at stimulating study and critical dialogue delineating the basics of Christian faith in relation to current issues and problems, variety and meaning in workship experience, relevant service projects, and also fellowship in group activities.

Presently, students of Gamma Delta are engaged in furnishing the student lounge area in the Lutheran Center at Baltimore and LaHarpe. These facilities are open year round for discussion, relaxation, and fellowship purposes.

Aeolian Club Meetings Educational in Content

Aeolian Club at the College is the local chapter of the Student Music Educators National Conference. Membership in the organization is open to all students with an interest in music.

Aeolian club conducted professional meetings consisting of programs dealing with music education as well as regular, monthly, business meetings.

Social activities of the Aeolian Club were a fall picnic, and a Christmas party. Members also helped with the annual spring music festival, district contest, the annual summer band camp, and recitals. The spring banquet ended Aeolian Club's activities for the year.

Honorary Art Club Sells Homecoming Mums

Members of the Honorary Art Club this year celebrated the 50th anniversary since their organization's founding on this campus. As part of their celebrational activities they sponsored, for the first time, an All College Art Show. This show consisted of the best works of all art majors on campus. Paintings and drawings were selected by members of the Art Division faculty on the basis of originality, beauty, and excellence.

Earlier in the year, Homecoming mums were sold as a fund-raising project,. These funds were later used to sponsor a trip to Chicago in the Spring, where students visited special art museums and lectures.

Under the leadership of president, Mike Yager, club members were informed regularly about the various contests, shows, and exhibits in nearby areas which were open to student participation. Many art students displayed works in some of these shows, and received valuable criticism, suggestions, and praise.

Elementary Majors Chorus Take Spring Tour

Elementary Majors Chorus was organized in 1962 and provides opportunities for elementary majors who wish to improve their ability to sight read, become discriminatory in the selection of children's music, and become aware of desirable choral techniques.

Members worked and practiced many hours to gain the practical musical experience needed by elementary teachers. Students were given valuable practice in the selection and teaching of elementary music.

Highlights of the year's activities included performances at the First Baptist Church and at the faculty Christmas party. A tour was also taken in the Spring to some elementary schools in the Northeast Missouri area.

NEMO Singers Tour Baton Rouge in Spring

NEMO Singers held a Pancake Day during the Fall Semester to raise money for their tour to Baton Rouge, La. in the Spring. Clay Dawson returned this year as director of the NEMO Singers, after a leave of absence in 1969-70.

NEMO's annual Christmas Candlelight Concert was presented twice in December. The concert was also broadcast on KRXL, the local FM station. The a cappella group also recorded a program which was shown on KTVO-TV, Ottumwa, Ia.

Local churches in Kirksville and Macon were also hosts to the group, which is open to any student at the College, and is not restricted to music majors. Final presentation of the year on the College campus was the NEMO's Spring Concert.

Orchestra Helps Produce "Madame Butterfly"

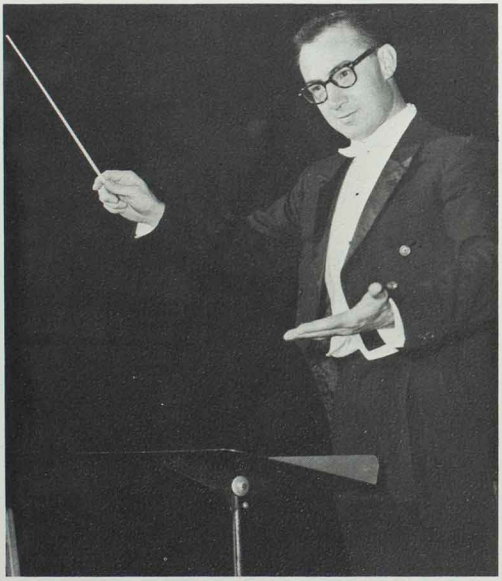

Two concerts were presented by the Northeast Missouri State College Orchestra in 1970-71. Under the direction of William FitzSimmons, the orchestra performed works by Sibelius and Hindeminth. During the Spring Semester the orchestra played the score for the Fine Arts Division's production of the opera "Madame Butterfly."

Eight soloists were featured at the annual concerto concert held February 21. Individual performances were given by Pam Simpson, who sang Menotti's Steal Me, from "Old Maid and the Thief; Sue Shirk, who played Mozart's Concerto for Bassoon in B-flat major K.V. 191; Robert Dawley, who performed the Concerto for Violin in D major by Paganini-Wilhelmj; and Mary Morris, who sang Alleluia, from Exsultate, jubilate", K.V. 165, by Mozart. Also performing in the concert were: Jo Ella Waybill, who played the Concerto for Piano No. 21 in C major, K.V. 467; Steve McEuen, who played Concerto for Trombone in E-flat major; Olinda Gastler, who played the Concerto for Saxophone in E-flat major; and Janice Culbertson, who sang Vieni! t'affretta!, from "Macbeth".

Band Performs In Many Concerts and Parades

Robert Scott became director of the Marching 100 in 1970-71, while Tom Duden was attending graduate school to continue work on his doctorate. Scott came to the College from Ruskin High School in Kansas City, Missouri.

Concert and marching band took their annual tour to St. Louis during the Fall semester. During their two-day stay the band performed in University City, as well as presenting concerts at Normandy, McCleur, and Hazelwood high schools.

The Marching 100 presented performances at Eastern Illinois University and also area schools including Milan, Unionville, Canton, and Hannibal.

March 2-6, the band was host to Vaclav Nelhybel, noted composer and director, who directed the band in a concert of his work, "Symphonic Requiem," a symphony in four movements.

May 11, the concert band presented a "Composer's Concert", of works by Missouri composers. The year's activities concluded with the annual banquet held May 26.

PEM Club Plays Hostess At Christmas Party

PEM Club members were hostesses at a Christmas party for children at the Kirksville Regional Diagnostic Clinic in December. WRA members worked with PEM Club to have the party for the children as a philanthropic project of the Physical Education Majors club for women at the College.

PEM Club also has its first entry in the Homecoming parade in 1970, using the theme "Cape's Last Stand."

Guest speakers at meetings during the year were Dr. Tim Nice and Mrs. Gloria Rogers. Dr. Nice, senior student at Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery, presented an anatomy lecture and demonstration in the anatomy pit at KCOS in November. Dr. Nice centered his remarks on areas of the body, particularly the muscles, which physical education instructors play a major part in the development of. Mrs. Rogers, physical education instructor at Knox County High School in Edina, Missouri, stressed the importance of girls' sports in Missouri in a lecture in February.

Pam Mestamacher served as treasurer of the Missouri Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. Delegates from the College attended the Central District meeting of AAHPER in Omaha, Nebraska, March 19-21.

National affiliation for the group is the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation.

Black Jack Rifle Club Sponsors Turkey Shoot

This year saw the formation of a new club on campus—the Black Jack Rifle Club. Although not a part of ROTC, it was sponsored by ROTC and given access to the rifle range in Nason Hall. Meetings were held every Wednesday, with membership open to anyone interested.

In an effort to generate some revenue, Black Jack sponsored a turkey shoot in the winter; the response was quite successful and money was used to sponsor various club activities. Members also conducted a membership drive in a special effort to obtain more female members and they hope that more women join the club in the future. Other activities included planning a Coffee Houses in Panhellenic with amateur performers from the school; this would be open on week-ends with everyone welcome.

Club Members Conduct Discussion With C.P.A.

Accounting Club members were honored this Fall with the visit of Larry Gipple, partner in a C.P.A. firm. Mr. Gipple had initially come on campus to interview prospective employees for his firm, but he was persuaded to remain until the regular meeting that night. The resulting discussion was a give-and-take session which was of interest to all.

Other activities included participation in the Homecoming activities and fall and spring elections of new officers. Members also held their annual pool and ping-pong tournament in the Student Union Building During the Spring, members embarked upon their annual picnic.

Membership is open to any accounting major or any student who has completed the course in intermediate accounting.

Wives Participate in Campus Activities

Student Wives, a newer organization on NMSC campus, provided a great opportunity for newly married wives to get involved in campus activities. Student Wives met twice a month to organize money making projects, such as bake sales. This money was used to support various activities in which they participated. Among these activities were writing letters to the men in Viet Nam, entering a float in the Homecoming parade, a Christmas Party, and a Valentine's Day Party. The ladies highlighted the year with a banquet held in May in honor of the married couples who would not be returning in Fall.

Alpha Iota Performs To Promote Music Education.

The promotion of music education is the major aim of Sigma Alpha Iota. A professional women's sorority, having received its college chapter only this year, Sigma Alpha Iota has served the college and the community through the fine arts department.

Singing monthly at an area church was one of the sorority's major activities this past winter, as well as entertaining at the old folks' homes and the diagnostic clinic.

In its sponsoring of musicales Sigma Alpha Iota Sorority has provided NMSC with additional cultural and educational opportunities. Service to NMSC, in the form of the ushering of non-Lyceum music functions, has been a part of Sigma Alpha Iota Sorority.

Wesley House Used For Various Functions

Under the direction of Dick Todd, campus minister, the Wesley Foundation is the United Methodist unit of the United Campus Ministry. The Foundation seeks to develop religious growth within the college campus.

Although the Wesley Foundation is associated with the United Methodist Church, all its activities and programs are open to all on the College campus.

The Wesley House is used for a variety of meetings, ranging from impromptu gatherings to Sunday evening speakers and discussions. Service projects and social functions are carried out for both those inside and outside the campus community.

"Who's Who" Honors Go To Thirty-Five Seniors

This year thirty-five seniors were picked by the faculty to be honored by selection to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Selection was based on leadership, scholarship, and contribution to the college as judged by voting faculty members. To be selected for this honor, it was necessary to be recommended by members of the faculty and approved by the Student Senate. After this, the students' names were submitted to the faculty-at-large for a vote, and the seniors receiving the most votes were named to Who's Who.

GREEKS

Panhellenic Council

Composed of representatives from six sororities, the Panhellenic Council supervised and coordinated sorority activities on campus. As their first major activity of the year, the Council sponsored the Panhellenic Tea which opened formal rush activities.

Throughout the year the Council worked with the Panhellenic Dormitory adjustments. Other duties included the revising of the Panhellenic Handbook and rush rules.

Spring activities included participation in the Interfraternity Council's Leadership and Development Conference, and also in Greek Week activities. The year's schedule closed with the annual Panhellenic Banquet and presentation of the scholarship cup, and the election of a "Miss Congeniality" from each sorority.

At the Panhellenic banquet held in early spring, Ann Leone, Mary Harrington, and Lisa Nagle talk over their cups of coffee.

Interfraternity Council

Composed of representatives from each of the fraternities on campus, I.F.C. took strong strides toward unification of not only the fraternities, but of all Greeks. In addition to the traditional governing and conducting fraternity rush, they sponsored an I.F.C. leadership and development conference. Representatives from all Greek organizations attended.

An I.F.C. Service Award was initiated for the most public service for campus and community was awarded to Alpha Kappa Lambda. Other service projects included a Greek Dance and Greek Week, co-sponsored with the Panhellenic Council in the Spring. Three new colonies were established- Pi Kappa Phi, Omega Psi Phi, and Alpha Phi Alpha.

Delta Sigma Theta

Zeta Zeta Chapter was founded on the campus in May, 1968, with its primary emphasis on service. Through the national program, they supported bookmobiles in the southern regions, donated books (especially on black history) to libraries, contributed to mental health organizations, screened and recruited girls for Job Corps and Peace Corps and teenage boys and girls on cultural trips. The sorority's social action and scholarship programs and two projects: the Teen Lift and the Christmas parties, are also included as examples of the pioneering effort which identifies Delta women as leaders in community service across the nation.

Service projects which Zeta Zeta Chapter sponsored on campus this year included a Christmas program for the children at the Diagnostic Clinic and the collection of can goods for needy families. Annual events include a Christmas dance, Jack-of-Hearts dance, an anniversary banquet, and Founders Day banquet.

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. was founded in 1913 at Howard University in Washington, D.C. Today, there are over 50,000 members, and more than 300 chapters in 40 states and the Republics of Haiti and Liberia.

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Eager for another eventful year, Alpha Sigma Alpha warmly welcomed two new sponsors, Mrs. Betty Cochran and Mrs. Eugenia Roberts.

Marcia Mossbarger, an NMSC graduate, proudly represented Missouri in the "Miss America" pageant in Atlantic City.

Alphas also took an active part in student government and sports. Carol Holtkamp was elected Student Senate Treasurer; Janey Mathis, Senior Councilwoman; Kay Obermann, Senior Secretary; and Pat Goeke, Junior Councilwoman. Backing the Bulldogs were cheerleaders Carol Holtkamp and Esther Skinner.

Mrs. Sarah Wimp Peavler, former Alpha sponsor, was honored for giving twelve years of service at the annual Founder's Day banquet in November.

Rush began with several informal get-togethers and then the traditional "Alpha Traz" party was given. The formal party "ASA Showboat" was followed by the signing of fifteen pledges.

Chosen to Who's Who were Kathy Bagley and Cathy Powell. Cardinal Key initiates were Kathy Harris, Cathy Powell, and Barb Wedde. Jane Craft was selected as an Echo finalist.

Alpha Sigs pursued their interest in their philanthropic projects by working with the Campus Volunteers on several community projects.

Alpha Sigma Tau

Alpha Tau's "Tau-Hiti" was the theme of their annual Yellow Rose Formal. A South Pacific atmosphere and lei greeting welcomed collegiates and returning alumnae.

After peering through the looking glass at the "Mad-hatter's Ball," rushees found themselves "Wishing" at the formal rush party. At the climax of rush season seven coeds found that their wishes came true.

Homecoming brought the toads to life. The Bulldogs proved once again that they could "Wart Off the Indians." Alpha Sigma sponsored Mary Stout for homecoming queen. A tea was held following the game for visiting alumnae.

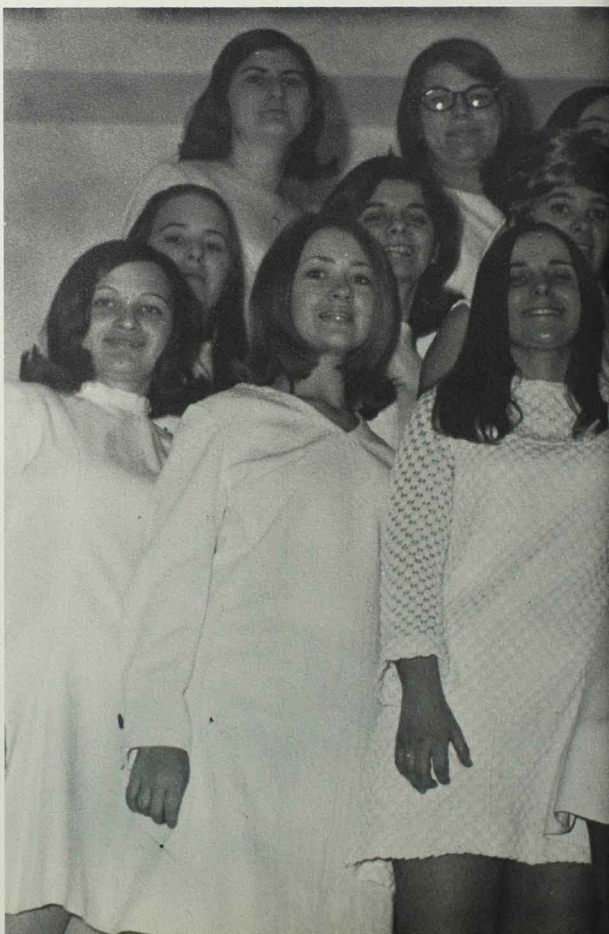

Fall found two Alpha Sigma sisters, Phyllis Scott and Janette Stoffa elected to Who's Who. Cardinal Key accepted Phyllis Scott and Joyce Lichte for membership with Phyllis becoming the newly elected president for the year 70-71. Michelle Krink was sponsored as our candidate for Northeast Missouri Fair Queen. Echo queen candidates for this year are Roseann Giammetta, Michelle Krink, Cheryl Martin, Patricia Snapp, and Georgia Voehl.

Delta Zeta

The Delta Zetas returned to campus to move into a newly furnished chapter room displaying several silver awards from the national convention. Delta Sigma chapter spent a busy year in a variety of activities social, scholastic, and philanthropic. The year began with rush season, featuring the traditional "Under the Big Top" and "Rose Garden" parties. After pledging thirteen co-eds to the sisterhood, the sorority successfully campaigned for Mary Eads who was selected homecoming attendant. The Homecoming float this year was "Bulldog Revival."

Delta Zeta's honored Mr. Dan Wood as Dad of the Year. Susie Dean represented Delta Zeta in the Nation Cotton Maid Contest. Becky Yates and Debby Wood were selected to Who's Who. Delta Zeta participated in the Blue Key Campus Bowl again this year.

Delta Zeta's philanthrophy projects included: work with the Campus Volunteers, collection of canned goods for Thanksgiving, the Easter Seals Drive, and a presidental kidnap for food for the holidays. Besides awarding the Lucy Simmons Scholarship, Delta Sigma chapter sponsored a Carville patient. This year Delta Zeta also added an honorary little sis to their numbers.

The sorority attended several mixers with the college fraternities and the Osteopathic fraternities. The Mother's Day Tea and the Spring Formal completed the year's social calendar.

Sigma Kappa

Sigma Kappa began her eleventh year on the Northeast Missouri State College campus with newly elected officers: President-Janice Rusk, 1st Vice President-Elizabeth Fedak, 2nd Vice President-Shelley Swofford, Secretary-Rita Rhoades, and Treasurer-Celeste Knierim with Mrs. Howard Terry acting as sponsor. Sigma Kappa had representatives elected to Student Senate and various class officers.

Rush season opened with the Panhellenic tea, picnics, informal parties, the Roaring 20's party, and the traditional Pearl Party, and reached its climax at the yell-in after 24 co-eds pledged Sig Kap.

Sigma Kappa was represented by candidates for Northeast Missouri State Fair queen, Greek Week queen, and Echo queen. Shelley Swofford represented Sigma Kappa as candidate for the Homecoming queen and the Sig Kap float took first place in the beauty division. Cathy Brennecke and Edie Grieshaber were selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Cathy Brennecke and Nancy Peterson were chosen to become members of Cardinal Key. Janice Rusk and Shelley Swofford represented the Delta Theta chapter at Sigma Kappa's national convention held in Sarasota, Florida in June.

This year's social events included attendance at smokers and mixers, pumpkin caroling, Christmas caroling, and the annual spring formal. Sigma Kappas also entertained their mothers at a luncheon, a banquet, and group attendance at Church during Mother-Daughter weekend.

To balance a busy social year, Sigma Kappa also contributed to various philanthropic projects including donations to the Marine Sea Coast Mission and the making of tray favors for two of the nursing homes at Thanksgiving.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Tri Sigma began a busy and fun-filled year with members active in all facets of campus activities. Brooke Williams served as President of the Student Senate. Tanya Parnell was a member of the Student Senate and Roni Fulbright was the junior class treasurer. Linda Cagle and Jan Jobusch served the school as Bulldog cheerleaders with Linda being captain.

Six members were elected to Who's Who: Karen Arico, Linda Cagle, Jeanne Sparlin, Becky Inlow, Brooke Williams, and Karen Yackley. Five Tri Sigmas were elected to Cardinal Key with Carol Sees serving as Vice President. Sigmas were treasurer of Alpha Phi Sigma and secretary and treasurer of the Student Union Board. Five members represented Tri Sigma in the newly formed Touch Down girls. Sigmas were president and treasurer of K-Dettes and had three other members marching in their ranks.

In four weeks of rush, Tris filled their limitation with 24 pledges. Social events for the year included a Sigma Stable Stomp, Christmas party, Big Sis - Little Sis Weekend, an informal Spring party, and the Spring Formal.

Sigma Sigma Sigma's candidate for Homecoming queen was Tanya Parnell. Also for Homecoming, Tris won the first trophy given for off campus house decorations.

Maradell England, Mary Kauffman, and Nancy Schriefer were chosen among the five Echo finalists. Margie Roderick was Mardi Gras queen. Brooke Williams was the chapter's candidate for Maid of Cotton and Debbie Cory was a finalist in the Missouri Ski Queen contest.

Alpha Kappa Lambda

Alpha Kappa Lambda was very proud this year in being the first recipient of two new campus awards; the Outstanding Campus Volunteers Award and the Interfraternity Council Community Service Award. A lot of their volunteer and service work was in cooperation with the Campus Volunteers organization.

AKL's went from last place in campus intramurals during spring to third place in the fall—a soaring record they are proud of. Ken Koehn won the spring marathon and Ron Felta and Bob Bohrer won the double horseshoes championship.

Thanks to generous donations from alumnae, actives, and friends, AKL was able to go ahead with futher renovations on their new house. Among improvements were new carpeting, paneling, and ceilings.

The little sister programs started this past year brought the AKLs great help and support in all our projects, such as smokers. They sponsored bake sales, held a breakfast for all members, and bought new drapes for the house.

Phi Kappa Theta

The men of Mu Sigma Chapter of Phi Kappa Theta completed another successful year. The Phi Kaps were active in various aspects of campus life.

Two bothers, Mick West and Larry Weede, served their fellow students as members of the Student Senate. Kent Harshbarger was selected to Who's Who and Jim Baker served as second vice president of Interfraternity Council.

The Phi Kaps won the 1970 Blue Key Campus Bowl. Members of the team were Kent Harshbarger, Mike Pryor, Dwight Cook and John Koenig. Brothers Koenig and Cook were selected to the Campus Bowl All-Star team for their outstanding performance.

The men of Phi Kappa Theta were also active in the intramural program. The highlight in intramurals for the Phi Kaps was capturing the All-School Heavy-weight Tug of War championship.

Miss Karen House was selected by the chapter as their 1970 Sweetheart. She was crowned at the annual Crimson Rose Formal. Earlier in the same evening, Mr. Eugene Croarkin, chapter sponsor was awarded the Mu Sigma Man of the Year Award for his outstanding service to the chapter during the year.

Phi Lambda Chi

During 1970-71, the men of Lambda Chapter have worked together in strengthening and unifying our chapter and the Greek system of which it is a part. The men of Lambda Chapter began the school year with an all school dance and a car wash. More dances were held various other money making schemes were tried.

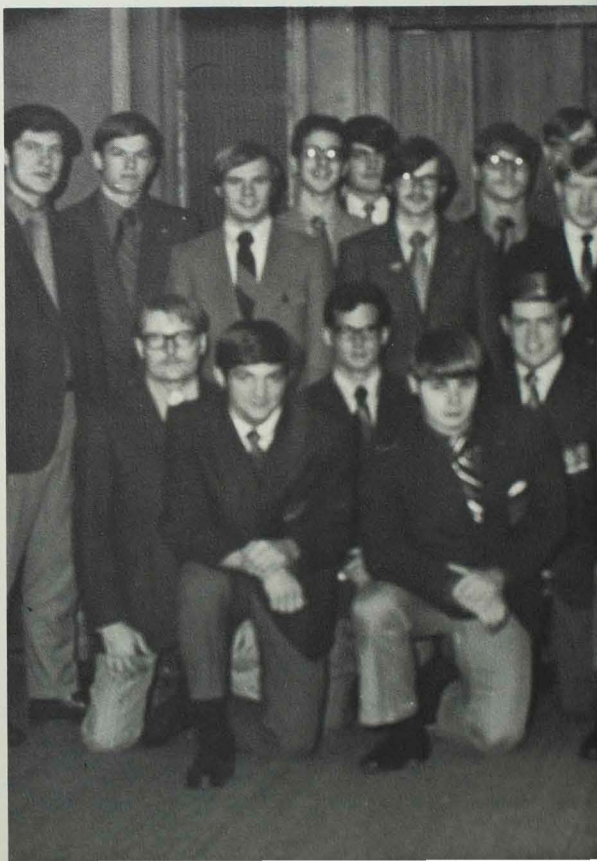

Lambda's Homecoming float entry-"We smell a Victory", won first prize in the spirit division.

The big move this year by Lambda Chapter was into our new house which is located at 215 North Mulanix. A two story brick dwelling, its history dates back to 1890, was one of the first mansions constructed in the Kirksville area. A year round renovation projects is currently under way.

Mixers with sororities were held and the Spring Formal is on its way to being one of our most beautiful ones.

Under the able guidance of our sponsor, Mr. William Murphy and newly acquired assistant sponsor, Mr. David Nichols, the Phi Lambs have continued to prosper fraternally.

Phi Sigma Epsilon

Gamma chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon began the 1970-71 school year by being awarded the "Best Undergraduate Newsletter" for the second consecutive year. The award was received at the National Conclave held this summer at Minneapolis, Minnesota.

In its strive for leadership, Gamma placed several of its members in responsible positions in campus activities. Three members were elected to the Student Senate as councilmen: Bill Homan as all-school councilman, Jim Evans as Junior class councilman, and Deon Johanning as Sophomore councilman. Greg Skinner was president of the Varsity Club, and Ken Bebermeyer was elected as tri-captain of the MIAA co-champion football team.

Gamma men not only contributed leadership and assistance to the college campus, but rendered their services to the Kirksville community by participating in such activities as collecting for the United Fund and March of Dimes. Phi Sigs also participated in a "fun weekend" for underprivileged area children and rang bells for the Salvation Army during the Christmas season.

Faring well in varsity sports as usual Gamma chapter was represented by having nine players on the varsity football team, six varsity wrestlers, four basketball players, three members on the baseball team, and one varsity tennis player.

Ken Bebermeyer was selected to All-American Honorable Mention in small college football to go along with his first team All-MIAA honors. This was the third time Ken has been named to first team all-conference at defensive end. Greg Skinner made second team All-MIAA at defensive for the second time. Terry Taylor won his singles match at the MIAA conference tennis meet as NMSC's number one man.

Ken Bebermeyer and Terry Taylor were selected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The men of Gamma chapter expect to display the All-Sports trophy in the fraternity house once again as they won first and second place not only in badminton doubles but in tug-of-war as well. The Phi Sigs took second place in fleetball and third in volleyball. With what appears to be a very strong basketball team a high placing is also expected in the sport to add to the now substantial lead in the All-Sports race.

All in all, Gamma exemplified the high ideals that are commensurate with Phi Sigs throughout the country.

Sigma Tau Gamma

Sigma Tau Gamma continued to lead the campus in several areas. Beta men won the Presidential Scholarship cup for the highest grade point average among fraternities with an overall 2.67 average. They also won the intramural All-Sports Championship trophy for the second consecutive year. The men of Beta chapter began their bid for a third straight title by winning both the singles and doubles titles in the All-Sports division in tennis and a league championship in fleetball.

Sig Taus held several key campus positions with Ric Constance, Student Union Board President; Dan Klein, Alpha Phi Omega President; and Stan Johnston, Index Editor and Chet Robbins, Index Business Manager.

Beta men participated in varsity football, wrestling, and baseball. Seven Sig Taus helped Kirksville gain the MIAA Indoor track title and a second place trophy in the outdoor meet.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The men of Iota Gamma came back this fall with spirits higher than ever as they actively participated in intramurals and remodeled the exterior and interior of the TKE house.

Alumni weekend and homecoming were a gigantic success. The TEKEs were in charge of pre-game ceremonies and took home two float trophies for Spirit and Best Overall float. An alumni banquet was held and townsperson, William Baiotto was awarded a plaque for his outstanding loyalty and service to Tau Kappa Epsilon.

The TEKEs held a successful food drive at Thanksgiving with Delta Zeta sorority and held a Christmas party at the house with the Campus Volunteers for some of the children in the area.

Fall rush was successful as thirty four men pledged and all entered into the bond for life. Mixers were held with Alpha Sigma Alpha, Delta Zeta, Sigma Kappa, and Sigma Sigma Sigma. The pledges took the Sigma Sigma Sigma pledges with them for a week-end at Pittsburg, Kansas.

TEKEs were active in many campus organizations and displayed leadership in many offices; Dave Lindley was Vice President of the Student Senate, Terry Laux was President of the Student Review Board, and Vice President of IFC, while Charles Stewart was President of the Senior Class, and James Compton was Vice President of the Campus Volunteers.

As of this writing, the TEKEs are anxiously awaiting their Spring Formal and looking forward to next fall hoping it will be successful for them as well as all of the students of NMSC.

Bulldogs Repeat As Co-Champions of MIAA

The "Purple Pride" again destroyed the poll takers statistics as the fourth seeded Bulldogs repeated as co-champs of the MIAA with a 5-1 conference ledger. The Purple and White eleven stymied co-champion Central Missouri State, 28-21, ruining the Mules homecoming and national ranking for the season's highlight.

Statistics played a large part in the champions repeating history as the "Bulldog Power" rolled up 239 points while the stingy purple defense held the opponents to 169. Kirksville amassed a total of 3,412 yards in comparison to their foes 2,339. The passing attack gained the Dogs 2,264 yards as the purple defensive secondary stopped their opposition at 1,009.

Coach Russell Sloan started the 1970 campaign minus 17 of last years 35 lettermen. His offensive line lost four members and the whole defensive right line departed including All-Conference and All-District, middle guard Frank Wagner and All-League defensive tackle John Suell. Coach Sloan melted together men and pride to establish a 7-2 season record.

Five Bulldogs were selected to the MIAA All-Conference first team and two were elected to the second team. Aubrey Johnson was named to the Third Team Small College All-American squad. Ken Bebermeyer, Mike Berentes, and Don Cummings were named to the Small College All-American Honorable Mention list.

One of the years few disappointments was the season opener as the Bulldogs dominated the action statistically but dropped the game to Western Illinois, 42-25. The Leathernecks connected on only four of 15 passing attempts but three went for touchdowns. Lenvil Elliott scored twice and Mike Berentes and Pete Robertson each added touchdowns to the Kirksville attack.

Kirksville's eleven were not going to let it happen again as they entered Stokes Stadium for the first home game. Gathering in a total of 432 yards they rolled over the State College of Arkansas, 24-14. Berentes scored twice and Greg Skinner kicked a field goal for the Bulldog attack.

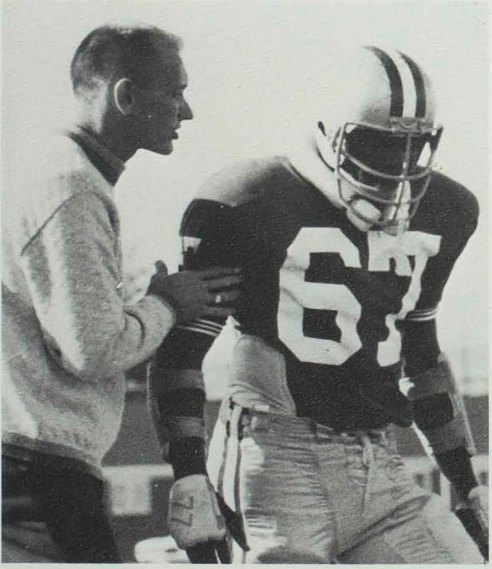

Gaining momentum the "purple power" ambushed Eastern Illinois University, 28-14, with a balanced offensive attack. The 'Dogs ate up 484 yards while the stubborn Kirksville defense held the Panthers to 49 yards from scrimmage and 137 yards passing. Tom Geredine scored the first touchdown followed by Elliott and Robertson. Ken Bebermeyer picked up an EIU fumble on the Panthers two-yard line to set up Robertson's score. Elliott added another TD, his second of the game to complete the Bulldog scoring.

The "Purple Pride" continued their commanding performance as they sent the Cape Indians back to their wigwam with a sound, 14-6, thumping in the conference opener. The homecoming victory was decided largely by the defensive squad as they recovered three fumbles and intercepted four passes. Robertson and Elliot again led the ground attack gaining over a 100 of the Bulldogs 120 yards rushing. Cummings hit on 15 of 35 as Berentes hauled in seven aerials for 104 yards. Cummings pass to Elliot was the first score and Robertson carried in on the second.

All-Conference quarterback Don Cummings is carried off the field by teammates after stomping Rolla, 35-17, to gain a share of the title.

Coach Russell Sloan, who has led the Bulldogs to two consecutive co-champion titles, gives suggestions to Third Team Small College All-American Aubrey Johnson. Tri-captain Johnson was a big asset in the Bulldog defense as they topped the Indians, 14-6, in the conference opener.

All-conference split end Mike Berentes waits for a reception in the Southeast game as Berentes caught 7 passes for 104 yards in the Kirksville victory.

Tri-captain Ken Bebermeyer, a three year choice for first team All-conference and selected to small college All-American honorable mention list, chases down the Southwest quarterback.

'Dogs Pull Down 15 Touchdown Tosses

Somebody forgot to tell the purple and white that it was Warrensburg's homecoming, that the Mules were 6-0 and ranked 15th in the nation among small colleges, and that they were picked to lose by ten because the Bulldogs knocked the kick out of the Mules, beating them 28-21. The defense set up the first score on a recovered fumble and freshman Marv Robinson took the ball in from the 12-yard line.

After Central tied it, Cummings fired a 59-yard touchdown pass to Berentes to put the 'Dogs in front again. Warrensburg again tied the game and then took the lead 21-14. Geredine took a Cummings pass to tie the game once more and after Charlie Brown pirated a Warrensburg pass, Cummings hit Geredine again for the victory score.

The Bulldog "ground machine" protected the purple and white's perfect conference slate and kept the hickory stick in Kirksville for another year as they trounced the Bearcats, 35-7, to take sole possession of the MIAA lead. Elliot and Robertson combined for 237 yards and Robinson gained another 67 as the 'Dogs chewed up 342 yards rushing. For the first time in the year Kirksville went back 7-0 but Northwest's score never changed again as the Bulldog defense held Maryville to 193 total yards. Robertson scored three touchdowns and Elliot and Robinson each found pay dirt once for the purple and white points.

"Purple Spoilers" seemed an adequate description for the Bulldog team as they ruined the second homecoming of the year and defeated the Southwest Bears, 35-20. Cummings hit on 18 or 43 for a passing total of 435 yards. Berentes received ten of the aerials for 248 yards. The Bulldogs again had to come from behind but Cummings hit Blakely to tie the score. Al Fulton recorded his first score of the season and Berentes crossed the goal line twice with Robertson scoring the final touchdown. The 'Dogs defense held the Bears to 212 yards total offense and only 82 yards on the ground.

Disappointment dominated the Bulldogs feelings as Kirksville suffered their only conference loss to Lincoln University, 26-15, and fell into a three way tie for first place with Cape and Warrensburg. The Tigers held the powerful Bulldog offense to 138 yards, the lowest of the season, as the 'Dogs gave up four interceptions and three fumbles. Robertson and Elliot scored the only touchdowns.

Tom Geredine, first team all-conference selection, goes up for a pass against a sturdy Lincoln University defense.

Pete Robertson, the Bulldog's leading scorer with ten touchdowns, shows how it's done as he romped for three touchdowns and 107 yards against Northwest. Robertson also led the team in total yards rushing with 488 yards in 124 attempts.

Cummings, Berentes Team Up To Shatter Nine Standards

"WE-RE NUMBER ONE" resounded through Stokes Stadium as the Bulldogs chased the Rolla Miners home with a stinging 35-19 defeat to regain the MIAA co-championship. Cummings threw three touchdown passes to Berentes as he completed 14 of 26 for 390 yards. Berentes also kicked a 22-yard field goal, just before Robertson gained the final Bulldog score.

Cummings shattered five standards during his four-year career as he set a record with his 2,221 total yards passing for this season, and another with his career total of 5,539. The signal caller also sports the most completions in one season with 128 and career completions with 348. The new mark for total career touchdown passes was reset at 38 with the 15 for this season matching the record Cummings set last year.

Hauling in the majority of Cummings tosses was Berentes who changed the standards in four categories as he collected 98 career passes, 48 of them this season. His career total of 15 touchdown passes crumbled the old mark as did his nine for this season.

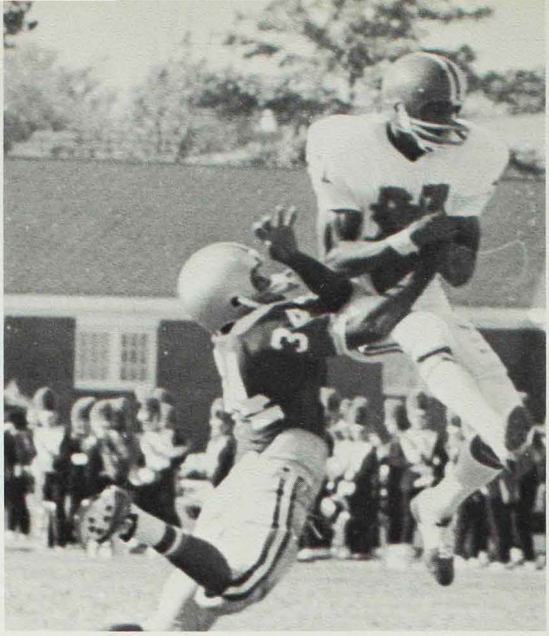

Robertson led all Bulldog scores with ten touchdowns as he rushed for 488 total yards with a 3.9 average per carry. Elliot followed close behind with eight touchdowns and 365 yards. Freshman Marv Robinson rushed for 189 yards and two touchdowns.

Tri-captains Johnson and Bebermeyer both closed their careers as they led the Bulldog defense which held the opposition to 2,339 yards, over 1,000 yards less than the purple and white offense accumulated. Johnson closed his career with 18 solo tackles and six assists against the Rolla Miners. Mike Dahlberg picked off four enemy passes and Johnson and Hepker each stole three as the defense collected 18 interceptions and 27 fumbles during the campaign.

Another Northwest runner is about to hit the dirt as Bob Hepker (36) and Craig O'Sadnick (55) box him in. Johnson (far left) covers a potential pass receiver.

Bulldog "Ground

Tri-captain Charlie Blakely tries to break up a Southeast pass. An offensive standout last year, Blakely played both offense and defense this year, averaging 6.3 yards per carry on offense.

Machine" Chewed Up 1,570 Yards Rushing

"Purple Power" is displayed as Gary Lacey (77), second team all-conference choice, leads the way for Elliot (22) who gained 130 yards against the Northwest Bearcats. The Purple and White, led by Cummings (17), gained 1,570 yards rushing in the 1970 campaign.

Switching from the faithful purple and white bus to this silver plane, the Bulldogs literally flew in to trounce the Eastern Illinois Panthers, 28-14. This was the first time the airplane was used for player transportation.

Randy Dawson, Bulldog punter and defensive back, puts his foot into this one against the Southeast Indians. Dawson averaged 35.0 yards per punt during the season. He also picked off a pass and returned 64 yards against Rolla.

Defensive safety, Kevin Miller, pirates a Northwest pass and returns it 19-yards as Bebermeyer throws a block on a Bearcat.

Versatile defensive player, Ken Powers, fights for position. This was Powers' first season since his freshman year in 1967.

Young Assistant Coaches Spirit "Purple Pride"

Bulldogs Gain MIAA Honors

Five Bulldogs gain first team MIAA All-Conference honors and two were selected for the second-team list. Aubrey Johnson was also selected to the Third Team Small College All-American squad.

Defensive end Ken Bebermeyer, split end Mike Berentes, quarterback Don Cummings, and end Tom Geredine captured the other four spots. Bebermeyer, Berentes, and Cummings were named to the small college All-American Honorable Mention list. Cummings, Berentes, and Johnson all made the Region 5 team.

Offensive tackle Gary Lacey and defensive tackle Greg Skinner both made the second all-conference team listing. Geredine is the only Bulldog selection who will not graduate this spring.

The Bulldogs line up against Warrensburg as they beat the conference title sharers, 28-21, to ruin the Mules homecoming. Despite the Bulldog victory, Central got the call for the Pecan Bowl.

Blood, Guts; Gain MIAA Crown

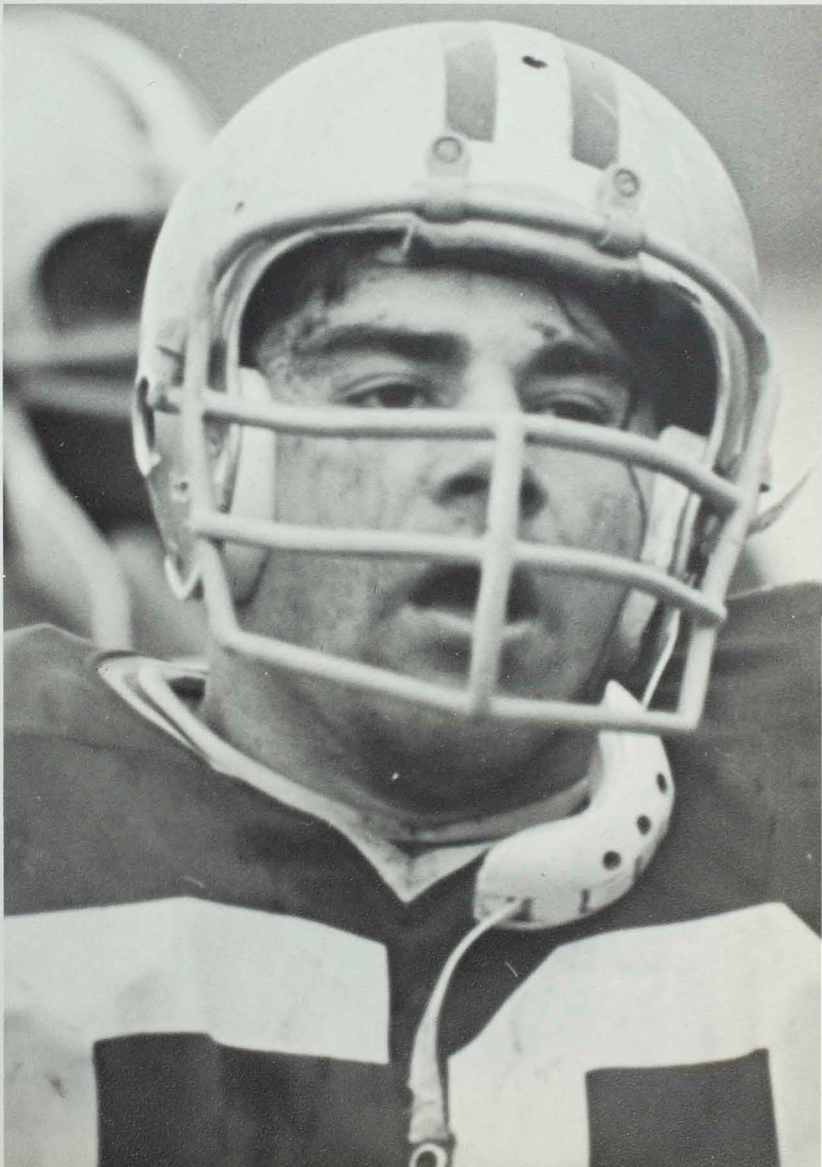

Coach Sloan told the story of the Bulldog success as he stated: "This was a rewarding season for us because most polls picked us third or fourth in the league. But our kids didn't believe they were beaten until somebody proved it." The 1970 "Purple Pride" would not give up throughout the season as they fought their hardest for what they received.

The Bulldogs will be losing many of their outstanding seniors as they will be faced with many big holes in their offensive and defensive teams. But Coach Sloan replaced 17 graduating seniors this year as the "Purple Pride" would not accept defeat beating off bigger and stronger teams throughout the year.

Success, pride, and pain streaks the face of defensive standout Greg Skinner. Skinner also kicked 21 of 26 points after touchdown attempts.

Pulling on their sweats after the Culver-Stockton and Westminster double dual in which the Bulldogs took first, are Loren Moes (left) and Bob Hunnerdosse. This was the opening meet for the harriers.

Seven or eight miles? Pat Sullivan enters Pershing Arena after a strenuous workout as Bulldog harriers ran at least seven or eight miles per practice. Sullivan, a mainstay on the squad, was injured for much of the season.

Harriers Finish Fourth But Gain Experience

Despite a strong start: injuries, poor grades, and lack of depth dropped the Bulldog harriers into fourth place in the MIAA. But the performances of freshman Linley Lipper and junior Loren Moes provided the Kirksville squad with a strong outlook for next year.

The Purple and White romped over Culver-Stockton College and Westminster College in the double dual meet which opened the season. Lincoln University also fell to the Kirksville harriers and the Bulldog team finished a strong second in the grueling Pancake Day Race.

Western Illinois was the turning point for the 'Dogs as leader Pat Sullivan was sidelined with a leg injury and Tom Walsh was banned from collegiate sports because of scholastic ineligibility. The Leathernecks rolled over the Bulldog runners despite Lipper's second place and Moes' seventh place finishes.

The loss of Sullivan and Walsh, added to the holes left by graduating standouts Keith Allen and Tom Logan, left the Purple and White vulnerable to the opposing attacks. Coach Kenneth Gardner labeled his young team the "Kiddie Korp" as Moes, a junior, became the oldest member.

A second injury, this one suffered by Dave Hanks, added more disorder to the Bulldogs make-shift line-up and they placed a distant twelfth out of fourteen teams in the Southwest Missouri State Invitational. Regardless of the odds, the Young 'Dogs regrouped and almost dropped the Warrensburg Mules but were stopped, 25-30. Lipper placed first and Moes fifth against the Mules as Moes cut a full minute off his lowest finishing time in the meet.

The fourth place MIAA finish is the first time in 12 years the Bulldogs have dropped below second place. Lipper finished eleventh and Moes twentieth as the rest of the Bulldog squad finished in succession at 25, 26, and 27.

With almost the entire squad returning to action in '71, the NMSC harriers should sport a greatly improved squad.

Bulldogs Clinch Top Honors In Conference

Coach Boyd King, in his last year as head mentor of the NMSC basketball team, put it all together this year and took his 1970-71 cagers, who were rated no better than sixth in the MIAA, straight to the top for the first time since 1959-60. Seniors Claude Wilson and Charlie Currie paced the Purple and White throughout the year despite decisive height disadvantages.

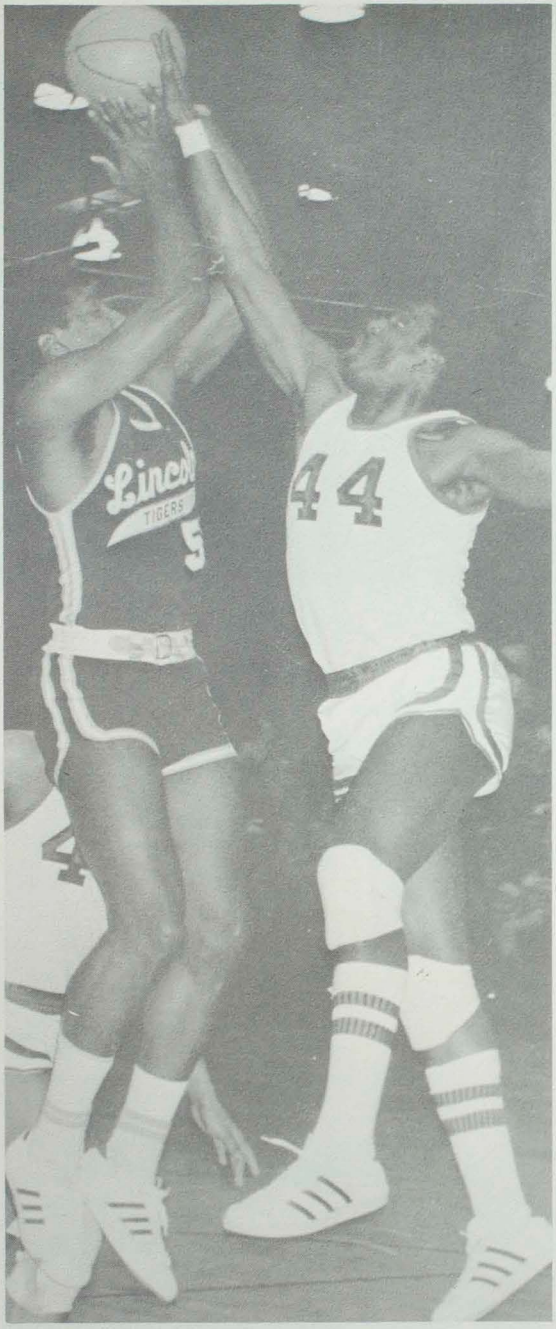

With the conference title came the first NCAA Midwest Regional bid since the last MIAA title and the officials again named Pershing Arena as the sight. A fired-up Bulldog squad scalped North Dakota State, 75-66, as they rebounded off three regular season losses. Kentucky Wesleyan proved to be the team that was rated tenth in the nation though as they stopped the Bulldogs, 60-48, and the Purple and White settled for second place.

Playing excellent defense and controlling the ball almost spotlessly, the NMSC five ran their conference streak to 9-0 before they fell victim to Central Missouri State. The Bulldogs were also running a perfect slate in the Pershing Arena as they made it to their last regular home game before they were defeated in Kirksville by a solid Quincy ball club.

Ironically, one of the years biggest disappointments came from last place Lincoln University. The Kirksville five headed for Jefferson City with the MIAA title sitting on the game with the Tigers who had not won a conference game. Northeast found a red hot Lincoln five waiting for them though and the Tigers romped on the first place Bulldogs, 87-65. Help was on its way though as the Warrensburg Mules were also defeated and the NMSC Bulldogs were number one.

Coach Boyd King, Dean of the MIAA, paces the floor as his Kingmen hit a rough spot in Pershing Arena. This was Coach King's twenty-fifth year.

Jumping high to block the shot of the Lincoln Tiger is Charlie Currie, Bulldog center. Despite a definite height disadvantage the 6'3" senior led the MIAA in rebounding with his 12.2 game average.

Bulldog rooters covered their faces after the 'Dogs first encounter as Quincy College demolished the Purple and White in their opener, 106-77. Settling down as they hit the home court the 'Dogs took the next five straight including their first two conference tilts against Southwest and Central, co-champions in 1968-69, and 1969-70.

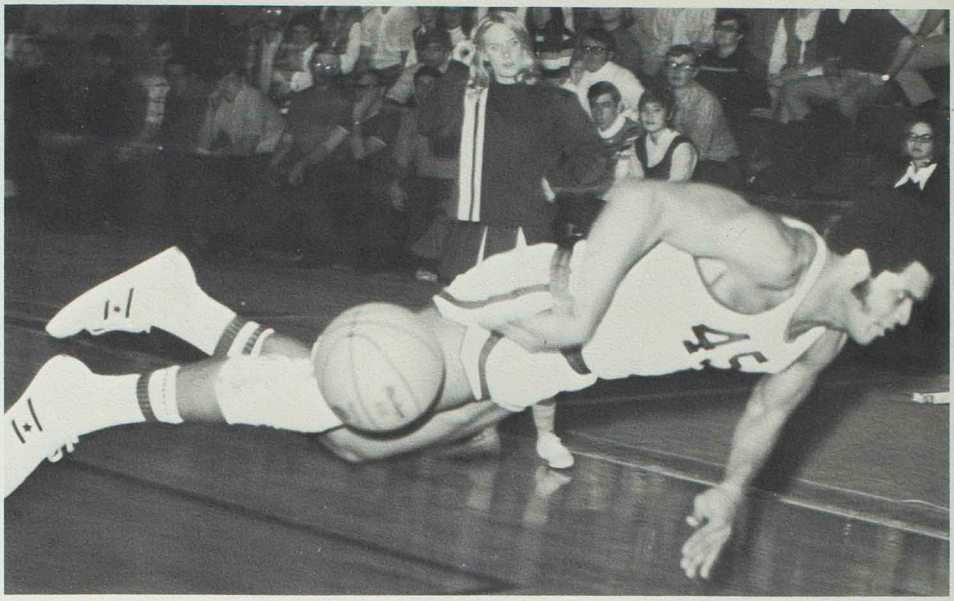

Back on the road the 'Dogs earned a win against Illinois State in a close one, 69-66. The University of Missouri (St. Louis) stopped the 'Dogs winning streak at six though as they topped the Kingmen, 100-77.

Returning to the safety of Pershing Arena the Kirksville five kept the visitors jinx working as they stopped four teams which invaded the Bulldogs home. Pushing past Washington University, 82-62, the 'Dogs took on three more of their conference members. Southeast fell victim to the rampaging 'Dogs, 89,81, followed by Rolla, 83-75, and Northwest, 67-64. The Kirksville five got all they wanted from the Bearcats as the teams had shared the conference title before the game.

Central College of Iowa forced the Purple and White out of the confines of Kirksville and the 'Dogs fell to their hosts, 60-57. Missouri Western marked the second of the five game road trips as the Kirksville five squeaked past them, 70-69. Success did not continue in the third straight non-conference tilt though as the rugged Rockhurst squad dropped the 'Dogs, 82-75.

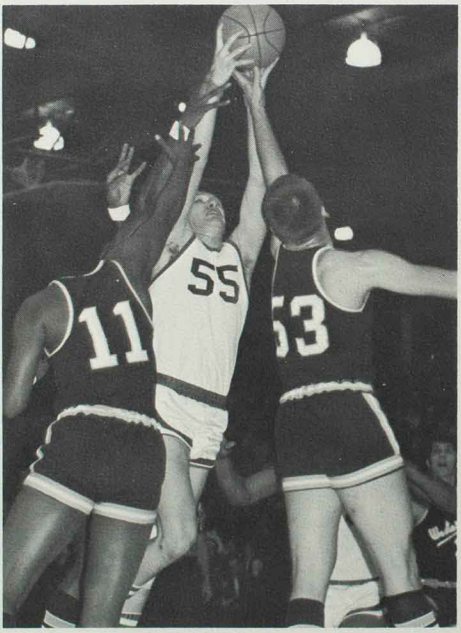

Senior Claude Wilson shovels the ball to his teammates in the Bulldogs toppling of the University of Wisconsin, 88-61. Wilson led the Purple and White scoring throughout the year with his 16.0 season average.

Diving out of bounds for a loose ball is sophomore Lou Gregory. This is descriptive of the technique of hustling and scrapping that gained the Bulldogs their title. Gregory added an 11 point scoring average and an 8.3 rebounding average to the teams totals.

Senior Steve Jurkins jumps over three Western Illinois visitors to grab a rebound in the 'Dogs 73-65 rout. Jurkins added depth to the Kirksville line-up as he took over for Currie whenever needed. The Western game was the last victory in regular season action for the 'Dogs.

Defense played a very important roll in the Bulldogs winning season. Jim Magruder trys to block a shot by a Southeast guard. Magruder started at guard for the Kirksville squad throughout the season. The 'Dogs dropped Southeast, 89-81, in conference action.

'Dogs Sweep Series On Rugged Road Trip

Facing two conference games in a road series which had only been swept once since 1957-58, the Bulldogs ran head on into Rolla and Southeast. The Kingmen were forced to come from behind in both games but they topped the Miners, 68-67, and then dropped the Indians, 93-86. The double victory pushed the 'Dogs conference slate to 8-0 before they headed back home.

Stretching their home streak of consecutive wins to 11, the Bulldogs dropped SIU (Edwardsville), 79-73, and then topped Lincoln, who just joined the conference this year, 90-74. Defense was again a major factor as the 'Dogs handled the high scoring Cougars and held them 20 points under their season average.

Celebrations were cut short though as the 'Dogs prepared to take on Southwest and Central, both on the road. The Bears were no match for the high flying 'Dogs as they fell prey to the Purple and White, 76,67. But the stubborn Mules started a downward trend for the determined Kirksville squad as they handed them their first conference loss, 83-65, and kept first place in question.

A home game with Western Illinois seemed to get the 'Dogs straightened out as they came out on top, 73-65. Kirksville headed for Lincoln, back on the winning track and a chance for the MIAA title if they just beat the team which occupied last place and lacked a single conference victory.

Success was recorded but only because the Central Mules lost along with the Bulldogs and the Kirksville five had first place sewed up for Coach King. It was a good thing that the title belonged to the 'Dogs because the Purple and White did not regain their winning ways till the NCAA Regional.

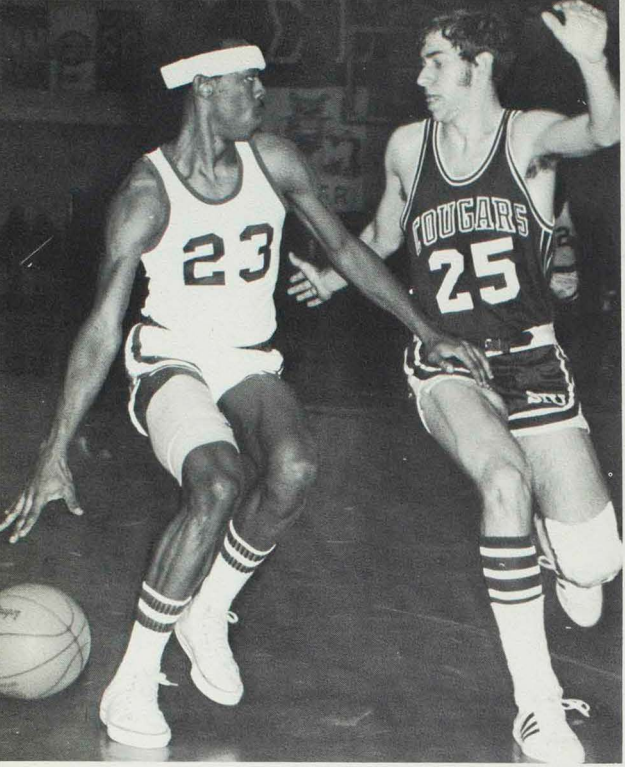

Quincy College came to town for the last regular season home game as they came face to face with a Bulldog five that sought not only revenge but a going away present for Coach King. Too much rested on the game and the 'Dogs just couldn't pull themselves together as a sturdy Quincy five handed the NMSC squad their first home loss of the year. Northwest finished the season by topping the 'Dogs, 75-71, leaving the 'Dogs 9-3 in conference.

Racing down the court in hot pursuit of a Southeast player is senior guard, Dave Davis. Davis was a constant thorn in the opponents side as he was constantly deflecting enemy balls and heckling the dribblers.

Claude Wilson, first team all-MIAA, dribbles against an SIU Cougar. Wilson led the Bulldog scoring attack in 14 games despite a leg injury which slowed him down during the late season games.

Currie, Wilson Named First Five All-MIAA

Leading the Bulldogs to their first MIAA title in 11 years, Charles Currie and Claude Wilson were both named to the first five members of the 1970-71 MIAA basketball team which is chosen by the seven league coaches. Currie led the MIAA in rebounding with his 12.2 average.

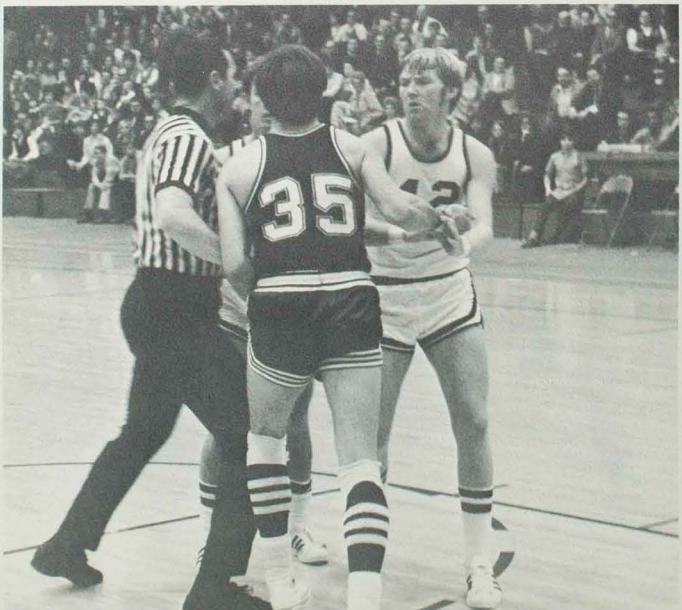

Besides the ranking of Currie in rebounding, Lou Gregory ranked seventh and Wilson eighth with averages of 8.3 and 8.2 respectively. Wilson ranked highest for the 'Dogs in scoring with his 16.0 average, seventh in the MIAA Currie was fourteenth with his 12.2 average.

Wilson was also named to the All-Tournament team in the NCAA Midwest Regional after the 'Dogs placed second. Lou Gregory received honorable mention in the MIAA listings.

Despite the fact that the Bulldogs had more rebounds than any other team in the MIAA with 1,366, the 'Dogs ranked third in rebounding average. The Purple and White poured in 1,999 points while holding their opponents to 1,954, as they averaged 74.0 points per game.

Kirksville's 18-9 record was well over second place Northwest's 14-10 but the conference ledgers were much closer. NMSC's first place was reached with their 9-3 tilt with Northwest and Central sharing second place with 8-4 ledgers. Southeast, 7-5, placed third, well above fourth place Rolla, 5-7. Southwest and Lincoln filled the bottom slots with 4-8 and 1-11 records respectively.

Tempers flared in the game against Lincoln as George Saffarrans (42) and a Tiger exchange words over the officials warnings. Saffarrans came off the bench to provide consistent depth to the Bulldog line-up throughout the season. The freshman played at the forward position for the Purple and White.

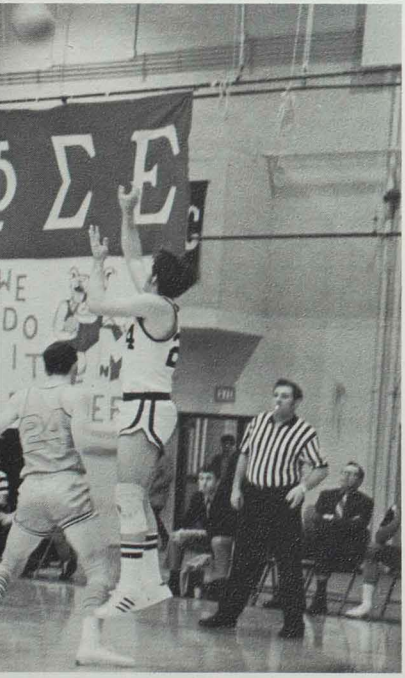

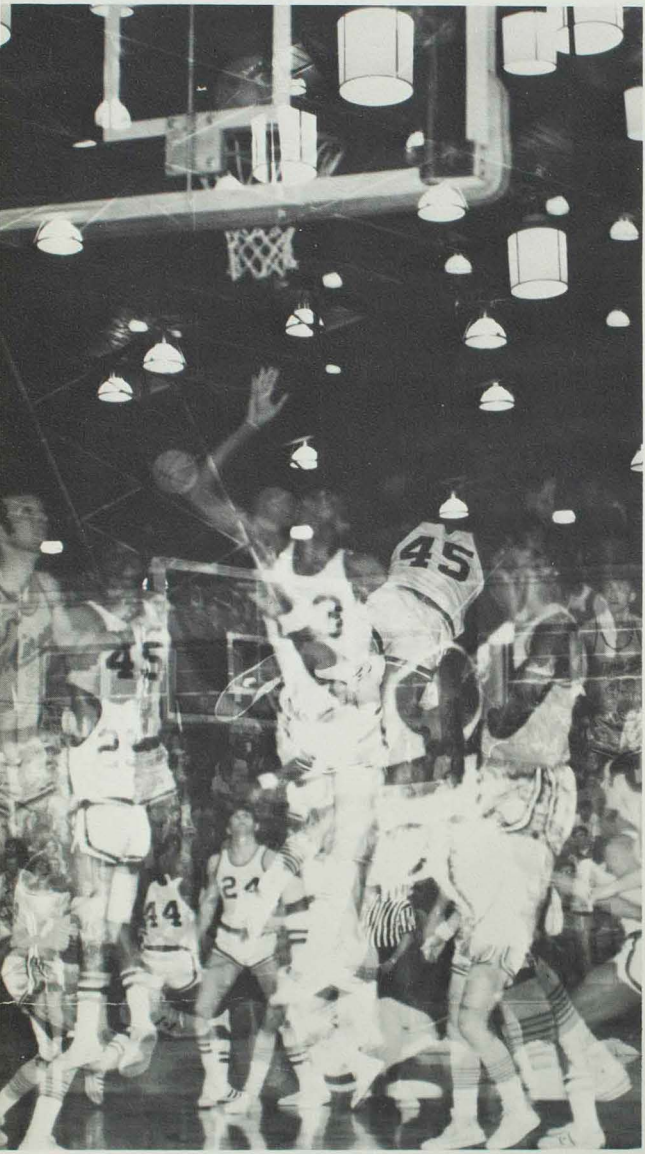

Despite the efforts of Ken Matzen (40) and Claude Wilson (23), this Rolla Miner comes down with a rebound. The game went into double overtime before Kirksville won, 83-75.

Freshman Joe Boyer takes a jumper as Charlie Currie prepares to pull down a rebound in the Bulldogs victory over Rolla. Boyer provided depth for the NMSC five as he came off the bench with a consistent scoring punch.

Charlie Currie and Steve Jurkins had the boards well covered but this opponent slipped in between them for the rebound. Currie was all-MIAA this year.

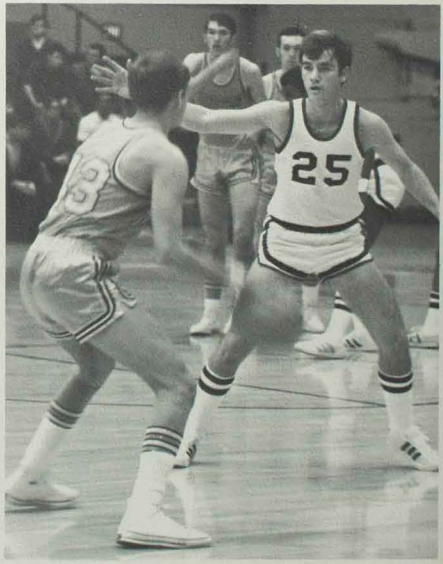

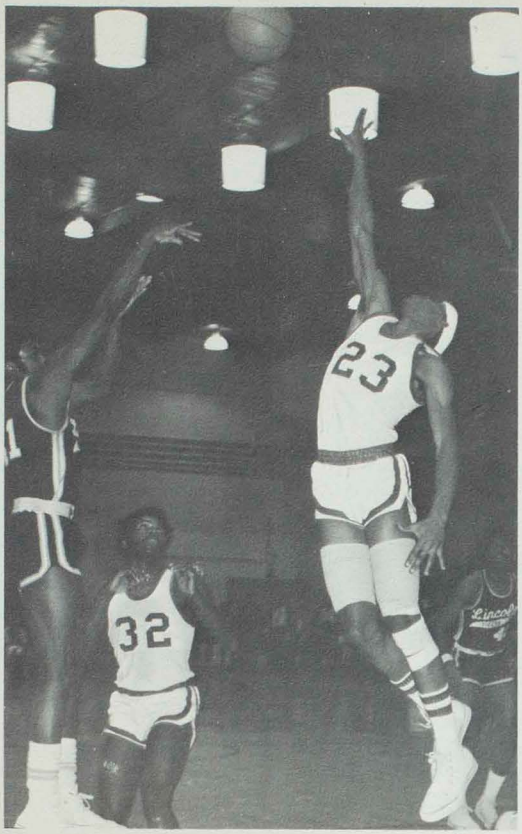

Sophomore Lou Gregory finds himself sitting on the floor of Pershing Arena with the basketball dribbling itself. Steve Jurkins heads over to give him a hand while the official chases down the loose ball.

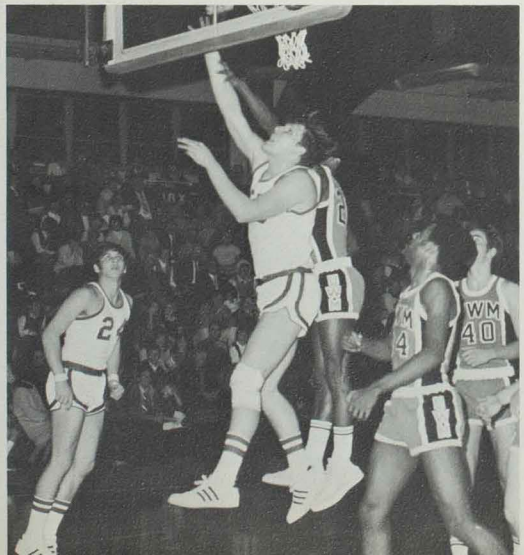

Jim Magruder trys to stop the Miners guard as he sets up a play. Rolla almost stopped the 'Dogs early in the season but the determined Kingmen took the contest in double overtime.

George Saffarans trys to get a shot off.

Sometimes walking just isn't fast enough and Lou Gregory again takes to the air as he chases a loose ball. This time there was an opponent underneath him.

Charlie Currie lays one in over the outstretched hand of the University of Wisconsin player. Currie scored an average of 12.2 on the season, fourteenth in the MIAA. The senior's MIAA leading rebound average and his scoring average are identical.

Jumping high for a shot is Claude Wilson as Joy Boyer (24) and Lou Gregory (45) move in for a possible rebound. Wilson hit at a .444 average.

Coach King Closes With Brilliant Season

Coach Boyd King, who announced he would be retiring June 30 after 25 years as head coach of the Bulldog cagers, closed his years as head coach the same way he began, with an MIAA championship team. Coach King led his first Kirksville team, in 1946-47, to the MIAA title for the first time ever for an NMSC team to win a title by itself. He leaves his coaching duties with an overall won-and-loss chart of 380-190.

Passing the duties to Coach Willard Sims, Coach King is giving him the first MIAA championship team since 1959-60. Coach Sims has served as assistant coach since 1962.

The Bulldogs have been MIAA champs or co-champs a total of seven times during the reign of Coach King. They have finished second eight times, third five times, fourth three times and sixth twice.

At the close of the regular season action Coach King was selected as College Division Coach of the Year for District Five by the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

Grapplers Drop To Second Place In MIAA

Tri-captain Ray Moncavage goes after Dan Power of Central Missouri State. Moncavage won his match, 8-6, and the Bulldogs dropped the Mules, 25-12.

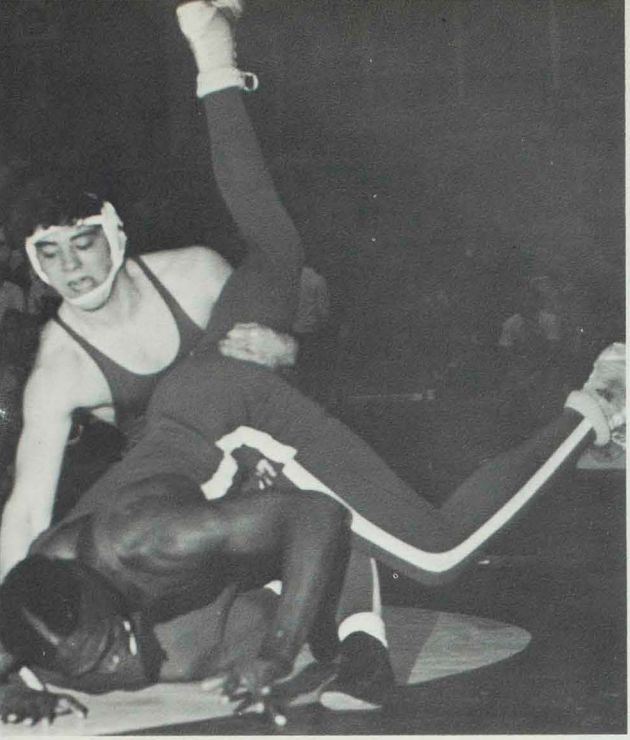

Despite dropping to second place in the MIAA for the first time since 1967-68, the Bulldogs sported a successful 7-2-1 dual ledger which included a six dual winning streak. George Simmons collected his fourth straight MIAA title and scored three points in the NCAA College Division Championships.

Health was a major factor in the Purple and White setbacks as the squad went into their final competition without the services of regulars Stan Huggins, Roger Hodapp, and Bob Bilder. On top of this, Dan Klein was wrestling for the MIAA title at 167 when he sustained broken cartilages in his rib cage and lost by default. Northwest won the title with 75 points over Kirksville's 68.

Joel Fye, a freshman at 118, and Simmons claimed the 'Dogs only titles. Fye scored two pins in the conference meet. Besides the two first places the grapplers collected two second places and three thirds.

Two shutouts were recorded by the NMSC squad as they destroyed Parsons College in the first meet, 36-0, and later defeated Missouri University at Rolla, 34-0. The 'Dogs tied the determined Missouri University Tiger's, 15-15, while they were missing two of their regular squad. The only dual losses suffered were at the hands of the rugged University of Nebraska (Omaha) and Graceland College.

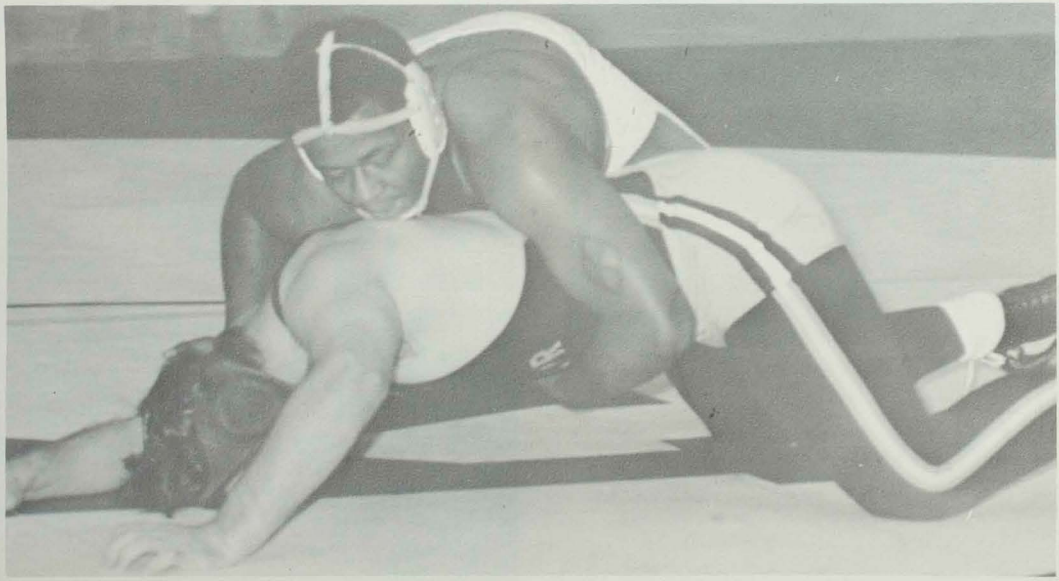

Trying to turn his opponent from SIU (Edwardsville), is Dan Klein. Klein put the 'Dogs in the lead for the first time in the meet as he decisioned the Cougar, 7-2. Klein and Moncavage led the Kirksville squad with 17-4-2 and 16-3 season ledger's respectively.

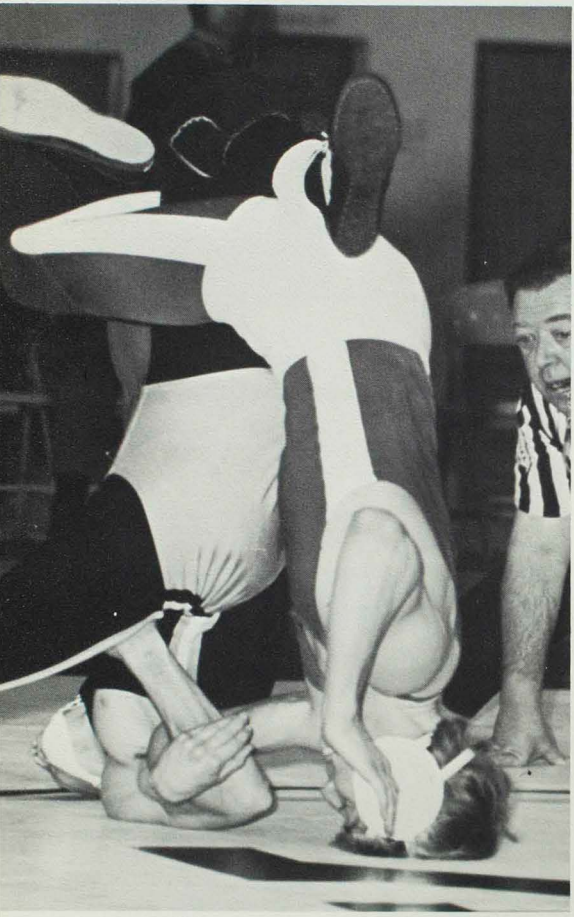

Stan Huggins, 177, scored the only pin in the Bulldogs meet with SIU (Edwardsville), which ended with the 'Dogs on top, 20-14.

Tri-captain George Simmons works on a Missouri University Tiger but this one got away from the Bulldog heavyweight and the meet ended in a 15-15 deadlock. Simmons scored the only points for NMSC in the NCAA meet. Moving from 191 to the heavyweight class this year, the Bulldog senior collected his fourth consecutive conference title, as he finished the year with a 15-7 season slate.

Wrestlers Successful In Dual Competition

It's hard to tell who has who as these grapplers fight for position in the Rolla meet. The final outcome wasn't hard to determine though as the Bulldogs smashed the Miners, 34-0.

Junior Bob Bilder works on an opponent from behind. The Bulldog was a regular on the squad before he suffered a broken hand after the SIU meet and was forced out of the line-up for the rest of the season. Bilder closed his season's ledger at 6-5.

Fighting to get the shoulders of this Central Missouri State grappler on the mat is Matt Stallings. The Kirksville junior decisioned the man 11-8. Stallings was 12-9 on the year.

Using all his strength to try to pin his opponent is Dan Klein. The Bulldog junior was going for the MIAA title this year when he suffered broken cartilage in his ribs and was forced to lose the match by default.

Tri-captain Roger Hodapp struggles with a Springfield wrestler. Hodapp was also injured in late season and was unable to help the 'Dogs in their MIAA quest.

'Dogs Gain Seventh Strait MIAA Title

Determination, rather than depth, led the 1970 Bulldog netmen to their seventh consecutive MIAA title. The Fighting 'Dogs also tied for first place in the National College Division Midwest Regional tournament.

Coach Jerry Meyer, in his first season as head coach, was faced with the problem of finding netmen to replace the graduated standouts, Ron Selkirk and Dave Romberg. Ken Clow, Mike Derr, Kurt Marin, Ron Sterchi, and Terry Taylor returned from the '69 campaign and yearlings Steve Chase and Tim Young rounded out the squad. Marin was dismissed midway through the season on disciplinary action.

Taylor moved into number one singles and took first place in the MIAA. Clow was conference champ in the number three slot and Derr took the title in the number two singles. Chase and Sterchi were champions in the number four and five positions respectively. Taking the title in number one doubles was the team of Sterchi and Taylor as Young and Chase took the number three doubles title. NEMS completely dominated the MIAA results as they finished with 46 points, 30 points more than second place Southwest.

Only two losses were suffered in dual competition as the purple and white fell to the powerful teams of Bradley University and Missouri University. The scrappy 'Dogs tied for the title of the NCAA Mid West Regional Tennis meet with Northern Iowa as each team collected eight points. The Bulldogs received their points on Taylor's second place singles finish and Chase and Young's second place finish in doubles. But the 'Dogs found Bradley on top again as they fell to second place in the NEMS Invitational.

Clow had the best record for the purple and white as he with a 17-5 season slate. Taylor's 14-9 season record was second for the Bulldogs. Chase finished with a 10-6 tally, Sterchi with an 11-9 total, and Derr with an 11-10 slate. Before his dismissal Marin had a 6-9 record as Young finished at 3-2 and Sam Duncan, 0-1.

Senior Ron Sterchi prepares to return a volley in the MIAA meet in which he won the number five singles.

Accumulating the best record of the season, 17-5, was Ken Clow. Clow won a first place berth in the MIAA for the fourth consecutive time.

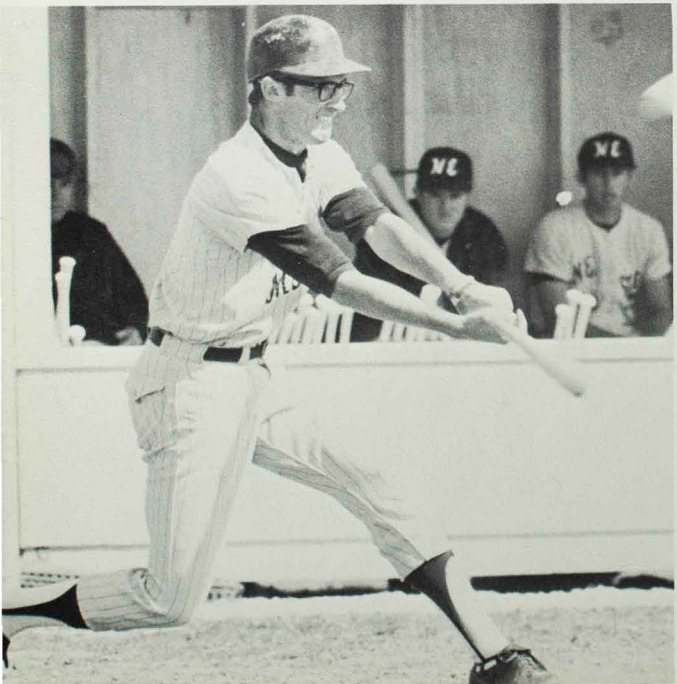

First year coach, Jerry Meyer, congratulates the Bradley coach as the Bradley netmen captured the NEMS Invitational. Coach Meyers holds the Bulldogs second place trophy. Kirksville has won six of the nine tournaments.

Row 1: l. to r. Harry Van Epps, Steve Bettis, Rocky Reimer, Rod Rea, and Bill Daues. Row 2. Ted Wilson, Bob Miller, Charles Blakely, Mike Gilbert, Jim Arico, Chuck Blazicek, and Coach Sam Nugent. Row 3: Bruce Taylor, Rick Riley, Larry Hammerbacher, Steve Lahay, Dick Housley, Bill Schnarre, Mike Hooker, and Garold Ritz.

Baseball Team Improves Batting Averages

Bulldog batting power made a definite improvement in the 1970 baseball campaign but their season record fell to 8-20-1, compared to last years 9-18 season. The team batting average improved to .242 over the previous years .217 and the Bulldogs found the home run range 14 times, almost double the '69 campaign.

Dropping eight of 10 MIAA games the Bulldogs defeated Northwest twice, including an 11-1 white-washing. The team had returned from the trip south with a 3-8-1 record looking forward to conference action.

Pitching success diminished as the E.R.A. grew from 3.13 in '69 to 3.66 in '70. Ted Wilson was the Bulldog work horse with a 2-4 record and a 2.88 E.R.A. for 50 innings. Mike Hooker had the best record, 2-2, and a 2.52 E.R.A. for 25 innings. Bill Schnarre had a 1-1 record with a 2.14 earned run average for 21 innings.

Charlie Blakely took the honors in the individual hitting attacks with a strong .362 including six home runs. Hooker was the closest regular with a .278 batting average and two home runs.

Team totals in hitting included a rise in extra base hits as the Bulldogs combined for 42 extra base pokes compared to last years 34. The R.B.I. total also took a leap forward as the batsmen knocked in 104 base runners, 31 more than the '69 season.

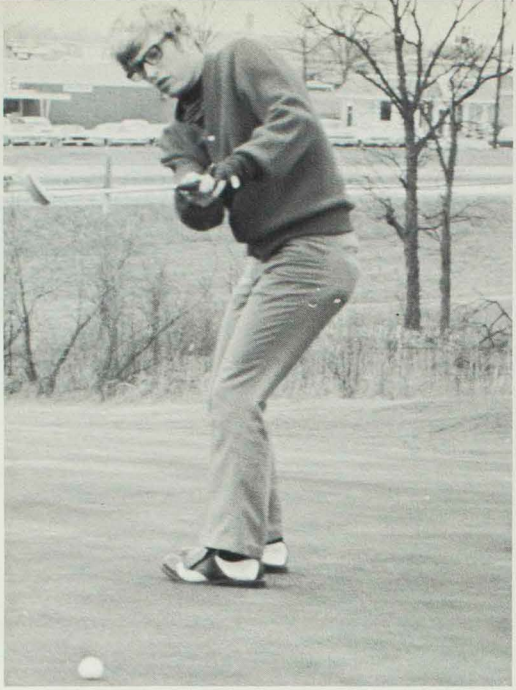

Bulldog third baseman, Bob Blake, dives to make the tag as the Bulldogs white-washed Northwest, 11-1 in MIAA competition.

Blakely displays his .362 swinging form.

Kirksville hurler Ted Wilson, follows through as he concentrates on a Quincy batter, while Blake readies himself at third base. The Bulldogs squeezed past the Quincy nine, 5-3, in non-conference action.

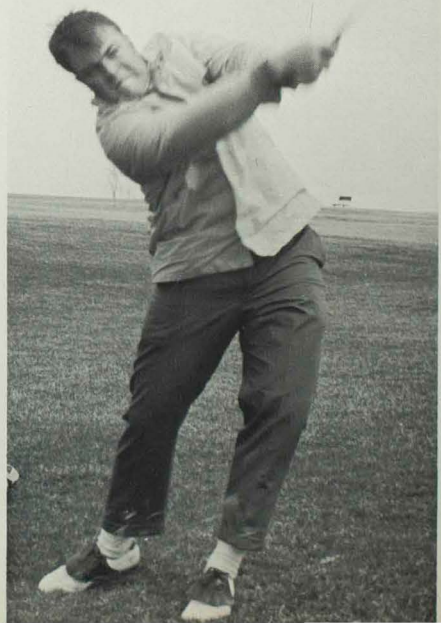

Putting carefully on the sloping green is Wally Finch. Finch was the number four golfer on the 1970 squad with a 79 average, 13th in the MIAA.

Golf Squad Again Takes Second In MIAA

Jack Swan, 1970 squadman, takes an iron shot to reach the green in the team play-offs.

Bulldog golfers again ended up second in the MIAA but there was only four strokes separating NMSC and first place Southwest in the meet which was held on the Kirksville Country Club. Bill Daniels, a freshman in 1970, paced the golf team throughout the year, ending up second in the MIAA. Kirksville was 9-3-2 in dual competition for the season.

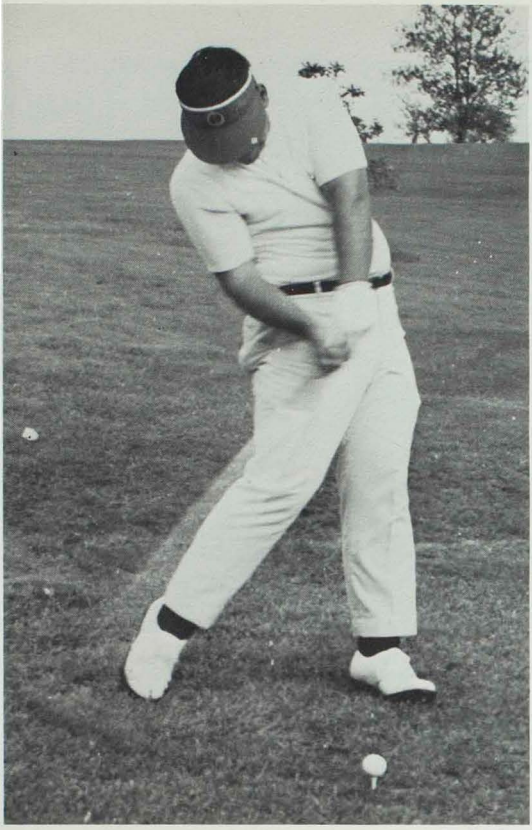

Daniels' 148 in the conference meet was followed by Bulldog golfer Chuch Hull who shot 155, placing seventh. Right behind Hull was Jack McClain, eighth in the MIAA, with a 156 total for 36 holes. Wally Finch placed 13th carding a 158 and Gary Paul shot 160 for 18th to complete the team total of 777.

The NMSC squad rebounded off a mediocre finish in the Miami Open and their opening dual loss to Tennessee Tech to demolish Centerville Community College. They tied Lincoln and then came right back to slaughter Westminster College, 16½-1½. Rolla was successful with the Bulldogs in their first meeting but the 'Dogs came back later in the season to defeat them in dual action and finished 15 strokes ahead of them in the MIAA. Kirksville only other dual loss was to Missouri University, Columbia.

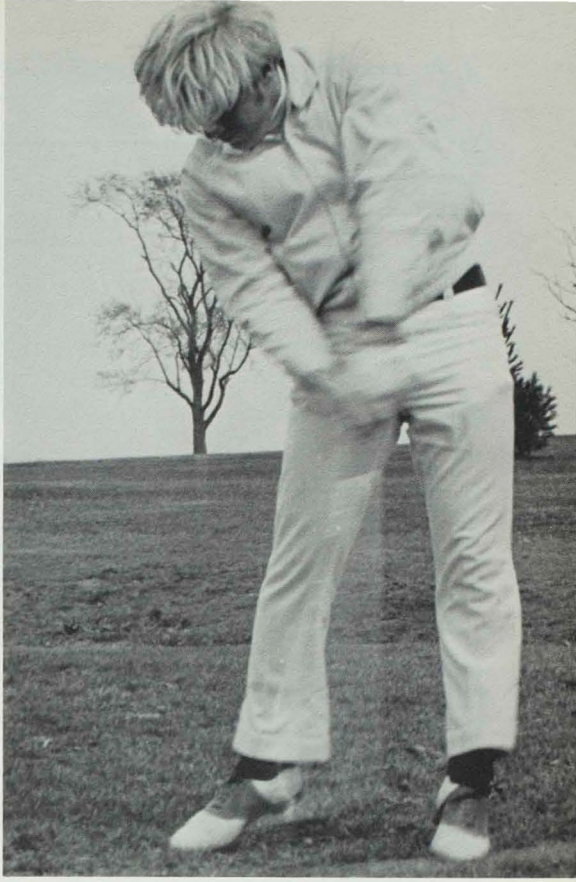

Leading the team in season average was Daniels with a 75. Hull shot 78 on the season followed by McClain and Finch, each with 79. Gary Derby finished with an 82 average and Gary Paul shot 85 on the season. Daniels also carded the lowest 18 hole round with a 72.

William Richerson again led the squad after returning from an academic leave of absence.

Individual records again begin with Daniels as he went 10-4 in dual action on the season, scoring 28½ points. McClain was 9-4 on the year with 26 points. Hull finished 6-6 with 22 and Derby was 7-5 with 16 points. Paul's ledger was 4-3 with 11½ points.

Teeing off is Bulldog Jack McClain, number three in the Kirksville line-up and eighth in the MIAA, with a sound 79 average.

Bulldog pacer, Bill Daniels, starts another nine. Daniels led the squad in every category, shooting the teams low for 18 holes, 72, twice. Daniels was second in the MIAA.

Following through after an iron shot is Dave Current. The squadman shot in three matches for the Bulldogs for an average of 85.

Quadrangular-Third
MIAA Conference-Secon

Thinclads Regain MIAA Indoor Title.

The 1970 Bulldog track team regained the MIAA Conference indoor championship as they fought past the Cape Girardeau Indians, 75-73. Stubborn Southeast would not stay down though as they regained the outdoor title pushing Kirksville into their second consecutive second place finish.

Don Allbritton and Tom Geredine were both picked All-Americans as they scored all 12 of the Kirksville points for the Purple and White's 18th place finish in the NCAA College Division track meet. Allbritton placed second in the decathlon, winning three of ten events. He also tied for fourth in the open pole vault and Geredine placed sixth in the triple jump.

Allbrittons second place finish was the highest ever for a NMSC thinclad decathlon. Allbritton also placed 12th in the decathlon in the NCAA University Division and Geredine placed tenth in the triple jump.

Before avenging last years loss of the MIAA indoor crown the Bulldogs placed one man first and one second in the Robert Kansas Invitational. They took first place in a triangular with Northern Iowa and Western Illinois and also took first place in a Western Illinois meet involving five teams.

Moving outdoors the thinclads trounced Western Illinois in their first meet but found Missouri University and the Chicago Track Club a little too strong. The Bulldogs grabbed a second and third place finish in the Kansas Relays and then Geredine made a record smashing, second place triple jump, and Allbritton broke the high jump record for sixth place in the Drake Relays. The Bulldogs destroyed Northwest in the last dual meet before the conference standoff. Following the MIAA meet the Bulldogs grabbed a third place tie in the NCAA Mid West Regional.

reshman Ken Ruediger legs it out in the high hurdles as he took first place in the MIAA indoor neet with a winning time of :07.7.

Mike Berentes finishes his leg of the mile relay as he hands the baton to Rick Rother. Berentes had collided with a Maryville runner and if he ad not finished and placed in the race, Kirksville would have tied Southeast for the indoor crown.

Bulldog's Control MIAA Field Events

Bringing the indoor title back to Kirksville was largely the work of the field crew as they captured the high jump, pole vault, long jump, and placed second and third in the shot put. Allbritton was the only double winner in the meet as he took the high jump and the pole vault honors.

Winning the long jump was Geredine as Luke Hotte and Bob Groff took second and third place in the shot put competition. Freshman Ken Ruediger won the high hurdles and Tom Logan took first place in the mile.

Dropping the MIAA outdoor title was one of the teams biggest disappointments. Southeast topped Kirksville 96½ to 77½, the third place going to Springfield with 33 points. Allbritton and Geredine were double winners and Tom Logan won the mile run with Keith Allen and Pat Sullivan taking third and fourth respectively.

In the most devastating of the Bulldog victories they rolled over Northwest 110-35. Steve Harting and Geredine were both double winners as they paced the thinclads. Harting won both the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash and Geredine again took first and second respectively in the shot put. Aubrey Johnson won the high jump. Allen took first in the 880-yard run and Logan again won the mile.

Gary Boyd, Harting, Willie Watkins, and Larry Shocks took first place in the 440-yard relay. Al Fulton won the 120-yard high hurdles as Rick Rother won the 440-yard intermediate hurdles. The mile relay team of Rother, Hardie Smith, Clarence Dottery, and Nick Francis took the number one slot.

Determination marks the face of Luke Hotte as he tosses the shot in the MIAA outdoor meet.

Nick Francis strides toward his teammates in the mile relay. Francis was an All-American as a freshman on the Bulldogs '69 mile relay team.

Leaping over the bar in the high jump event during the Maryville white-washing is NMSC's Al Fulton. Fulton finished tied for fifth place in the event.

Seven Standards Shattered

All-Americans Allbritton and Geredine led the purple and white thinclads throughout the year as each shattered records in the respective events. Allbritton holds the school record in the pole vault from last year at a height of 15'8". This year he topped the old mark in the high jump with a 6'10" finish at the Drake Relays. The sophomore also broke the MIAA Conference indoor and outdoor records with vaults of 14'11" and 14'8" respectively. He now holds the outdoor MIAA high jump standards with 6'10" and the NCAA Midwest Regional pole vault record at 15'6".

Geredine demolished the Bulldog triple jump record which Wayne Benton had held since 1963 as he topped the old mark by almost three feet with his 50'¼" leap. The bulldog freshman also shattered the MIAA outdoor triple jump record with his 50' 3" jump.

All-American Don Allbritton bends the pole en-route to his record smashing vault of 14'8" to set a new MIAA outdoor standard. Allbritton holds the school record in the event as he went 15'8" in the NCAA College Division meet last year.

Pat Sullivan, Keith Allen, and Tom Logan starting the mile run in the MIAA meet. Logan finished first with Allen and Sullivan taking third and fourth.

Co-captain Tom Logan finishes the mile well ahead of the rest of the field as the Bulldogs trounced Maryville. Logans time was 4:22.0.

Geredine flys to his record setting 50'¼" triple jump during the MIAA Conference meet.

Sigs Taus Clinched 1969-70 I-M Title

Sigma Tau Gamma clinched the 1969-70 Mens Intramurals title for the second consecutive year, taking first place in fleetball and singles horseshoes. The Sig Tau's collected 392 points, with Phi Sigma Epsilon in second place with 377 followed by Phi Kappa Theta with 321.

Mark Morrow, Phi Kap, won the singles tennis and then took doubles with his partner, Henry Sesepasara. Handball went to Richard Staley, Plymouth Rocks, in singles with Bill Weber and Gene Packwood, Phi Sigs, taking the doubles. The Phi Lambda Chi Aztecs took the fall tug-of-war but Phi Sigma Epsilon dominated the spring pull. First place in volleyball again went to the Iranians.

John Cowen, independent, took the turkey day run. In table tennis it was Mohammad Afra, Iran, taking singles and Jerry Weaver and Steve Orr winning doubles for Plymouth Rocks. Darrell Hanslow, Phi Kap, won the free throw contest. The Sports Animals took first in the basketball league. Badminton singles were won by Kurt Marin with Mike Dolan and Dan Butler winning the doubles for the Phi Sigs.

Wrestling went to the Plymouth Rock Warriors. Horseshoes singles went to Joe Galkowski, Sig Tau, with Feltz and Bohrer winning doubles for Alpha Kappa Lambda. Ken Koehn won the spring marathon for AKL, and track went to the ABC's.

Since the IM program has begun in 1958-59, the participation has grown from 659 to 2,758 in 1968-69. The Sig Tau's won the trophy the last two years and a total of three times. Phi Sigs have won the trophy the most times, six. The Menehunes have won once and Tau Kappa Epsilon has won the trophy once.

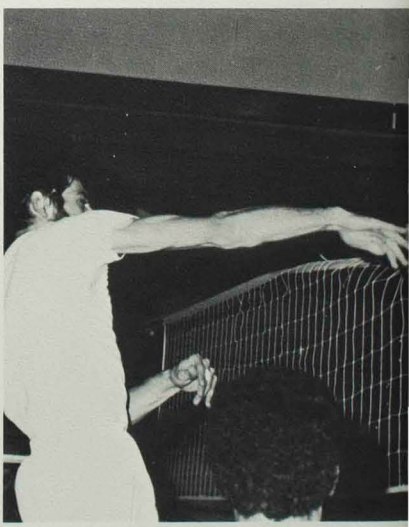

Tug-of-war is always one of the favorite events except when you lose and take your plunge through the cold, muddy ditch.

Lining-up for the Turkey Run are the participants in the cross-country style race. Top prizes include turkeys.

Volleyball action is annually dominated by the Iranians. The Iranians and the faculty are often paired.

Softball fills the spring afternoons if the rain doesn't get there first. Play-offs are annually cancelled by the weather.

Basketball is a main attraction in the Intramural program.

Opening the I-M program each year is fleetball. In this years season the Hammerheads defeated the Phi Sig Masters in the final game shown here.

WRA Sponsors IM and Extramural Sports

The NMSC Women's Sports Program, consisting of both intramural and extramural competition, now includes eight sports, all of which are sponsored by Women's Recreation Association. In state competition for 1969-70 the women's extramural teams collected two first place finishes, a second place and one third. The extramural program was expanded in 1970 to include tennis and plans to add track and field events and gymnastics to their activities have been made.

Included in the extramural program is: field hockey, basketball, volleyball, softball, and tennis. There is no league but games are scheduled with other colleges in Missouri, Iowa, and Illinois. Besides these games there is a district tournament and a state tournament. First place was gained in both field hockey and basketball in the state competition. The softball team took second in the state and the volleyball team placed third.

In addition to the extramural teams a well-rounded intramural program is available to the women. Volleyball, basketball, softball, table tennis, badminton, archery, and bowling are the sports which comprise the program. Each sport has a tournament which is organized by sports managers, an office of W.R.A.

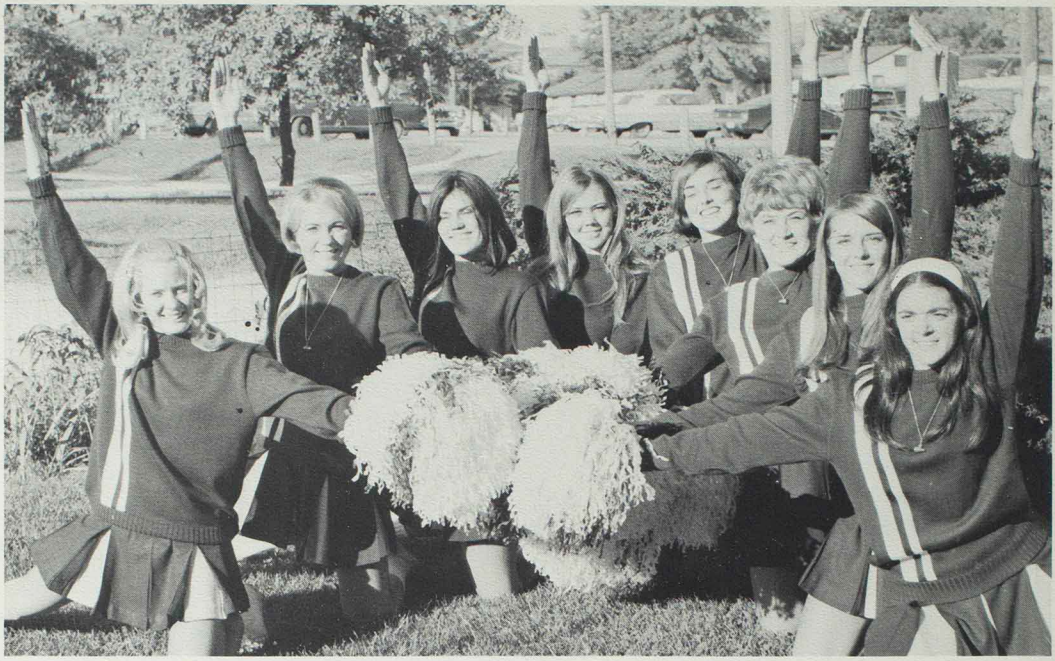

Table tennis was a popular activity in the intramural competition. Kathy Dietz concentrates on returning the ball in tournament action.

Hockey practice included many laps around the track for strengthening and endurance. Here the girls are warming up for practice.

Meet The Bulldog Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders Boost "Purple Pride"

Supporting the NEMS football, basketball and wrestling team this year will be these eight lively coeds. These spirited girls gave their time and energy to lead the Kirksville fans in Bulldog backing. Six of the eight have returned from last years squad.

Jeanne Barta, Linda Cagle, Carol Holtkamp, Paulette Kautz, Esther Skinner, and Debbie White have all returned to boost the purple and white. Two new faces joined the squad, Casey Jackson and Jan Jobusch.

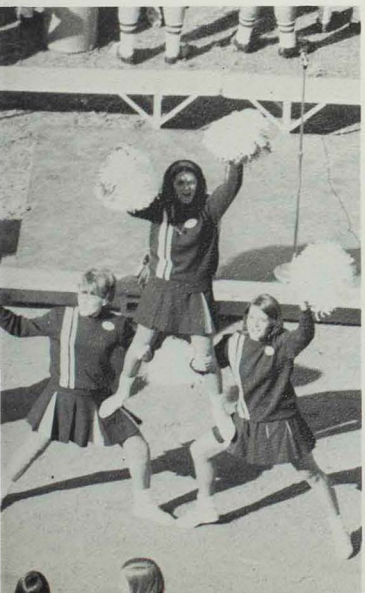

Selection to the squad included an individual performance before five judges consisting of three faculty members and two student senate members. The girls also had to have a 2.2 grade point average.

Paulette Kautz (front), Carol Holtkamp (left), and Jeanne Barta (right), check to see which cheer they will be doing next.

Sixty-Nine Candidates Vie For '71 ECHO Queen

Announcement of the year's ECHO Queen was a long-awaited activity for the girls involved. It all began back in November, when nominations opened, with a record turnout of sixty-nine candidates. From this group, the candidates were reduced in number by a panel of faculty, students, and townsmen. This elimination was held in early December in the Alumni Room with the judges selecting five girls as finalists, after much voting.

Judges for the evening were: Linda Heun, Language and Literature Division; Naomi Roberts, Special Programs Division; Eugenia Roberts, Business Education Division; Karen Snyder, Kirksville businesswoman; C. V. Huenemann, Language and Literature Division; Walter Ryle, Social Science Division; Richard Craddock, Health and P.E. Division; Lou Cottey, Kirksville attorney; Ev Hall, Kirksville businessman; Carolyn Smith, '70 ECHO Queen; Linda Cagle, Bulldog cheerleader; Cathy Powell, '71 ECHO editor; Louis Hamilton, '71 ECHO editor; Randy Dawson, Bulldog football player; Jim Gantt, Student Senate member; and Ken Bebermeyer, Bulldog football tri-captain.

Dick Cavett

Selects Queen

Upon selection of the finalists, Dick Cavett was sent their photographs and requested to choose among them. Finalists picked by the judges were: Nancy Schriefer, Cherie Qualman, Mary Kauffman, Maradell England, and Jane Craft. Cherie Qualman's picture was not forwarded for final selection due to a rule stating that the ECHO Queen must be single; she married in the winter to eliminate herself from final consideration.

Candidates pose for pic after selection as finalists.

Dear Louis:

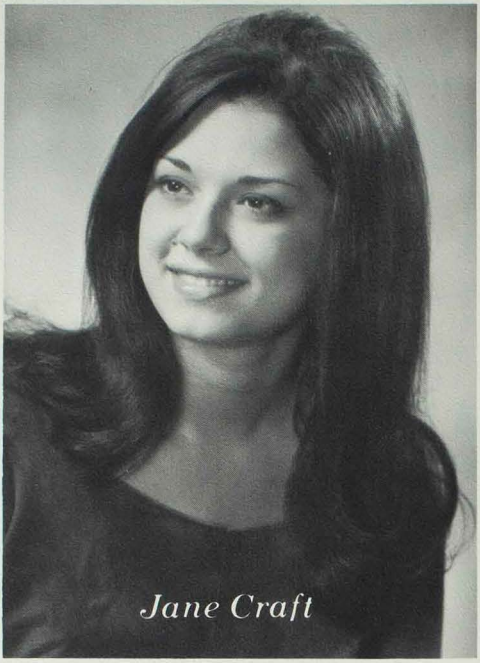

When I accepted the challenge of selecting the 1971 ECHO Queen, I anticipated it to be a delightful challenge, but instead I found it quite frustrating. How can you find one girl to be prettier than another when you have five extremely attractive girls to choose from? It was very hard so I have copped-out and chosen all the finalists to be ECHO Queens... No, seriously folks. After great deliberation, I have selected Mary Kauffman.

Thank you for asking me to participate in this event. I wish you and the entire class of 1971 happiness in the years to come.

Sincerely,

DICK CAVETT

Change Evident in Index Style

Transition and rennovation were the key words in this year's Index. One of the major changes was the initiation of salaried editorial positions. The Index was edited by Stan Johnston during the fall semester and Joan Bobeen during spring semester.

In the latter part of the fall semester the Index began an experimental bi-weekly publication, but it returned to weekly publication at the start of spring semester.

The Index furnished the students with comprehensive coverage of campus and national news. During the year, the staff changed the content, quality, and appearance of the newspaper.

Advertising sales for the Index were made by Chet Robbins. Managing editor was Elizabeth Twyman, and copy editing was handled by Joan Bobeen, Brenda Riley, and Brooke Williams. Rich Lucas served as sports editor.

Photography for the Index was done by Steve Goeke. During fall semester Joe Galkowski resigned his position as advisor to the Index and was succeeded in the spring by Richard Massa.

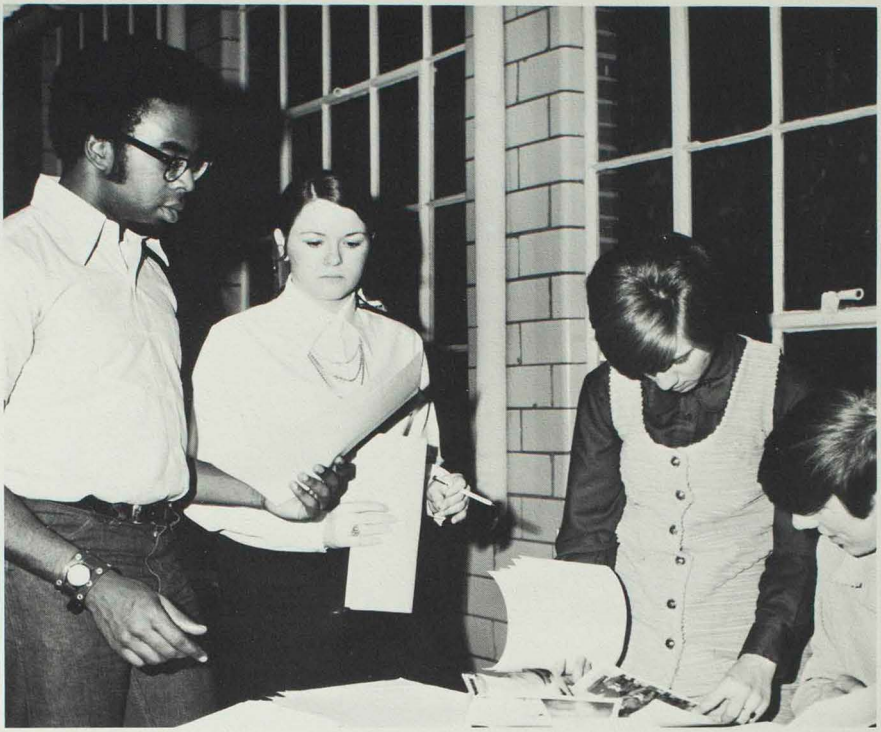

Rich Lucas and Joan Bobeen plan the layout for another edition of the INDEX.

Advisor Joe Galkowski and photographers Steve Goeke attempt to provide students with an up-to-date portrayal of campus events.

ECHO Staff Devotes Energy to Publication

There are always a few tasks which cause those involved a good deal of time and effort. Thus it was with the 1971 ECHO Staff, devoting much energy to the publication of the NMSC annual. The year saw various personnel changes for those connected with the staff. Joe Galkowski resigned as advisor at the end of the fall semester, to be capably replaced by Richard Massa. Cathy Powell, co-editor with Louis Hamilton, also left at the end of the first semester to be married. Yet, through all the changes, work was continuing on this edition of the yearbook.

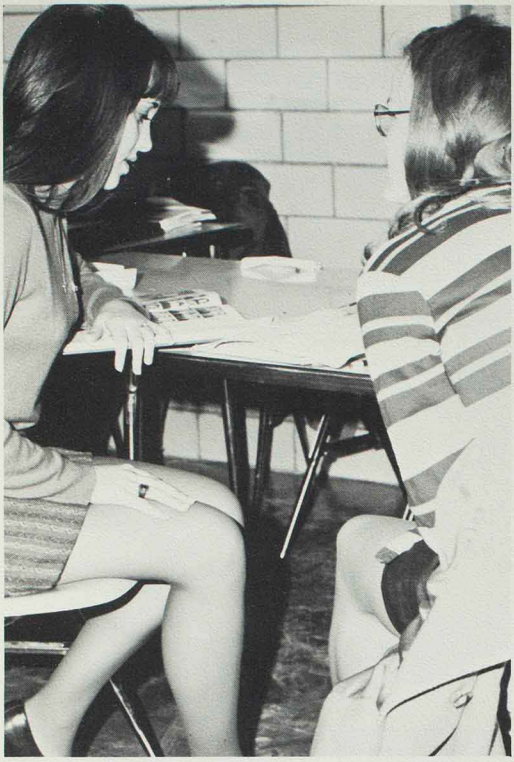

The pictures on these and the following pages point out some of the activities of the 1971 staff. Some members who gave a lot were missing when these photos were taken, but their contributions are valid and appreciated.

ΣΣΣ
ROYAL

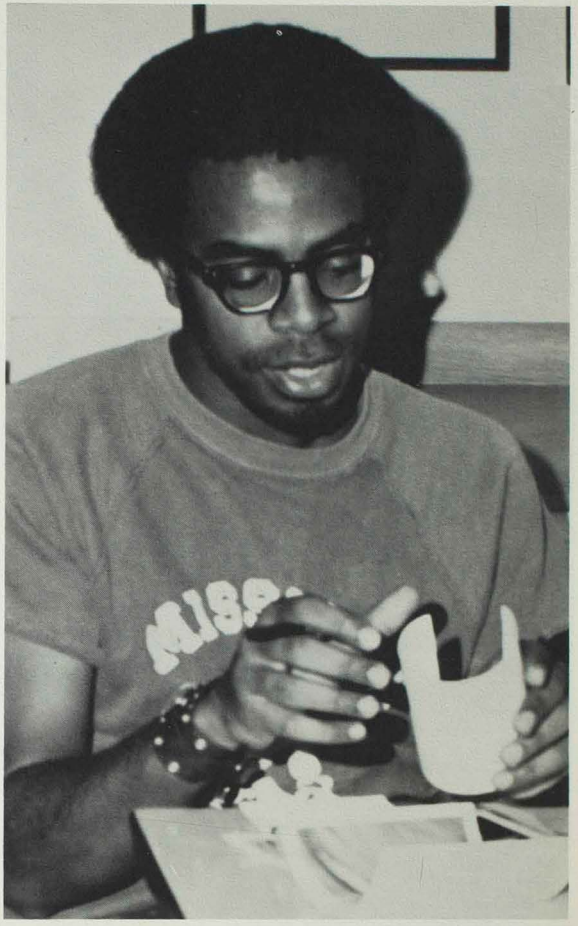

Now that the year is drawing to a close, most of us will forget many of the people who made this yearbook a reality. I do not say that the book is good; I feel that this is due to a combination of factors, with most of the blame directed rightfully at me. For a yearbook to have any meaning at all, it must adequately reflect the mode of student life present; I don't think that this present version does a very good job of such reflection.

There were several people who attempted to breathe life into the 1971 ECHO through contributions of time and work; there were several people who were more of a hindrance than a help. Many of you will be angry and exasperated because something in this book will not be the way that you wanted it. For the valid complaints, I apologize; for the petty ones, there is no apology due. I would like to thank all of you who cooperated with us in our attempt to produce a good book. In particular, I would like to thank those yearbook staff members who helped considerably in the production of this book; it was a pleasure to work with you.

Louis Hamilton, Editor
